And What Do You Think Clean Up Crews Found?

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Wouldn't You Know It?

This photo shows borough highway crewmen shattering the adage that the trash man has to pick up everything but the kitchen sink, especially during The Mercury's annual Clean Up Week campaign. A kitchen sink was not the only strange item put out for removal Tuesday by Clean Up crews under Stanley H. Reider and William J. O'Hara. Such items as beds, couches, clothing, toys and even a motorcycle were part of more than 83 tons of refuse collected.

That's Right! The Traditional Kitchen Sink!

"Everything but the kitchen sink" was the unofficial motto of borough collection crews in the past four Mercury sponsored Clean Up Week campaigns.

But Monday they lost their motto. Borough Highway department crews under Stanley H. Reider got the inevitable call. Early Tuesday afternoon they picked up the first kitchen sink in five years of collections.

Not at all dejected by the loss of their watchword, borough crews went back to work and by the end of the day bettered the five year collection record of 73 tons — set Monday — with a one day's total of 83 tons.

Tuesday seemed to be the day for setting Clean Up week records, according to Reider.

"The total number of loads collected, their tonnage and the number of calls received at borough hall and the borough garage set all time Clean Up records", he said.

HE EXPLAINED some 20 loads of trash were collected by the four truck highway department team. Although weightwise their "haul" was slightly under Monday's figure, combined with four loads collected by refuse collectors, it accounted for the record collection.

A record number of calls also was reported. Mrs. Margaret E. Berkheimer, borough hall switchboard operator, reported 175 calls, 75 more than Monday, on the FA 6-3100 line.

The borough garage phone (FA 3-1736) was the recipient of some 55 calls.

In the largest single refuse collection in the history of the borough, Roy T. Doyle,

State Earmarks $¼ Million To Repair 'Worst Streets'

2 Independent Markets Agree To Pay Certificate Costs

The two largest independent food markets in Pottstown agreed Tuesday to pay the entire cost of food handlers certificates obtained by their employes.

At the same time, a survey of "corner grocery stores" showed that in the majority of cases the employes were fully covered and the employer already assumed the cost.

"I think you'll find most of the smaller markets covered", Harry Hartenstine explained, "even if the bigger chains were able to ignore the law."

"I'm not sure, however, they were ignoring the law intentionally," Hartenstine, owner of a grocery at 1113 Queen street, added. "It seems as if no one at borough hall knew what they were doing so the apathy just seemed to sift down to the markets."

HE CALLED the food handler's program "a good one—but only if it's run properly and all the stores are regularly checked. Not the half-baked way it's run now."

Hartenstine and his wife, Martha, are the only two employes. Both comply with the ordinance.

The two largest markets who agreed to join with the three major chains—Food Fair, A & P and Acme—in assuming the cost of the program are the Food King Supermarket at North Charlotte and Prospect street and Rosenberry's Pioneer Shopping Center at Oak and Farmington avenue.

Harold Litvin, secretary of the Food King store, explained that in the past the employes have assumed the responsibility and cost of the foodhandlers certificate.

"But if the rest of the stores are paying for their employes then we will do the same thing. After all there is a law and we must abide by it," he explained.

Litvin also pointed out that his store had the highest percentage of coverage in the entire borough—11 of its 12 employes.

THE PIONEER Shopping center had one of the poorest percentages of covered employes—only six out of 27—but owner Frank J. Rosenberry said "that will all end."

"From now on all our employes will be covered and the company will absorb the cost of obtaining the licenses," Rosenberry explained.

"Though ignorance of the law is no real excuse, it's the only one we have. We just didn't know that the

TESTS FOR TB IN CHILDREN SET TUESDAY

Examinations to Show Presence of Germ

Plans are nearly complete for the test battle against tuberculosis in Pottstown next Tuesday, Leona V. Smith, executive director of the visiting Nurses association of Pottstown and vicinity said Tuesday.

The battle line has been drawn at the Washington elementary school, Walnut and Penn streets, the prize of victory is the health of hundreds of Pottstown and area children.

Tests for detecting the presence of tubercular germs in the body will be administered without charge to children aged 1 through 5, inclusive. The tests, each of which takes less than 15 minutes, will be given from 10 a. m. to noon and from 1 to 4 p. m. Tuesday. The tests will be read two days later at the same time and place.

Since the test shows only whether or not the TB germ is present in the body, Miss Smith said, a positive reaction does not necessarily mean the disease is active.

POTTSTOWN WAS selected for the mass test, the first in the history of the Montgomery County Tuberculosis and Health association, because of a greater prevalence of TB cases in this area, the VNA director explained.

While the Pottstown area has 5 percent of the county's population, it has 7.5 percent of the county's known tuberculosis cases, she said. Data supplied by the county association shows that the community has a tuberculosis prevalence rate of 203 persons per 100,000 population, compared to 133 per 100,000 population in the rest of the county.

Pottstown has a total of 53 known cases of TB, Miss Smith said, while the county has 706 known cases.

In 48 of the 53 Pottstown cases the disease resulted from germs that were inactive in the body for some

Cool Weather Belies Age of Maturing Spring

Spring might be middle aged by the calendar but records of the past two months show that it hasn't really been born yet, the weatherman said Tuesday.

"Spring is still in the great beyond someplace," sadly commented Reading Forecaster Matthew I. Peacock after recapping temperature figures for March and April.

Temperatures were below average for 43 of the past 63 days, he reported.

The low temperatures have "put agriculture at least two weeks behind, and have delayed fruit buds," Peacock said.

$16 Million Dam Project Scheduled In Evansburg Area

Residents of the Evansburg area can expect work to begin on a 4480-acre dam, reservoir and recreational area within the next two years, Dr. Maurice K. Goddard, secretary of the State Department of Forests and Waters announced Thursday.

Dr. Goddard also said plans for a large scale project along French Creek in Chester county would be postponed in favor of a large scale improvement and modernization of existing facilities at French Creek State park.

This two fold disclosure came after a year long study of proposals made public the past Spring by the Army engineers.

It called for expenditure of more than $16 million on the Evansburg project within the next 50 years "to alleviate grave water shortages in the Evansburg area caused by low water pressure and to promote economic expansion in the area through provision of adequate recreational facilities."

DR. GODDARD said he expected the first funds for studies of the Evansburg site to come through within the next few weeks.

"A bill before the State legislature, already earmarked for speedy passage, will give us the funds we need to get started," he reiterated.

Goddard explained the bill was being rushed through the legislature to bolster recently begun work on damsites in the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh areas.

"An initial outlay of $1 million was approved earlier this year for development of plans for the first Southeastern Pennsylvania site along the Tohickon creek in Bucks county", he pointed out.

This site, he explained, was chosen as it was in an area experiencing the most severe growth problems. Its real estate value, if allowed to increase, he said would be "the most prohibitive".

AT A meeting the past month, Dr. Goddard said, residents of the Tohickon area were told they would have to move eventually. Completed first stage plans were outlined for them by the State and the Army engineers.

"The bulk of funds from the bill currently before the legis-

Draft Quota Is Nil For Month of May

Local, healthy youths can relax a little during the coming month. Mrs. Elizabeth Black, selective service board clerk for Pottstown and vicinity, has announced that no quota has come in for the month of May. The last inductee was taken in January.

"But the month is still young," she added.

BUYER IRATE AT CONDITION OF FIRE TRUCK

Goodwill Apparatus Was Slated for Borough

The borough can forget about getting the 1916 pumper back—at least in one piece.

In case you forgot, the borough wanted to use the pumper from the Goodwill fire company for pumping during heavy rains and floods. It was even willing to pay $250—though it claims the fire company once offered it free.

But Monday night the fire committee found out the pumper was already sold—to Albert Reifinger, North Keim and Mulberry streets, Lower Pottsgrove.

And Reifinger already has the huge pumper dismantled and waiting for the highest bid from a junk dealer. He also has a complaint.

"WHEN I paid for it, the pumper was supposed to be in running condition and it was to be delivered just as it was. And that included the fire bell, several nozzles and tips and a box full of tools."

You've guessed his complaint by now—it had to be towed to his house and when it arrived it was already stripped. No fire bell—worth $40; no nozzles—worth another $10; no tips—worth another $5; and no tools—worth a couple of dollars.

"I had it figured down to the cent. Hoped I could make a hundred bucks on it and then I'd give the fire company a nice donation for the house," Reifinger sizzled.

"Now I won't give them a thing!"

BUILDER SEEKS APPROVAL FOR APARTMENTS

Would Erect Structure At Queen Street, Moser Road

A $350,000 apartment house will be constructed at Moser road and Queen street in the near future if a favorable interpretation is given to the zoning ordinance controling C-1 commercial districts.

The code now permits "apartments in conjunction with business use" in C-1 districts. The question here is whether this requires a commercial establishment to be constructed as part of the apartment development.

Plot plans for the 36-unit apartment were filed Tuesday with Building Inspector Lewis J. Kirby by Henry H. Weiner, an Abington builder and well known land developer.

Two of the buildings will face Moser road and the third will face Queen street. Each building will contain eight two-bedroom apartments on the first and second floor and four one-room efficiency apartments in the basement.

THE TWO-AND-A-HALF story buildings — only half of the basement will be below ground — were designed by Lester H. Weckesser, a Haddonfield, N.J., architect. Each apartment will have 1285 square feet of space—35 feet more than required by the zoning code in a C-1 com-

Bumpy Hanover Area, Twisting Manatawny Will Be Corrected

Action Comes on Heels of Complaints Of Council Committee; Project May Start Next Spring

By PAUL LEVY
(Mercury Staff Writer)

A quarter-million dollar State financed improvement program for Manatawny and Hanover streets was announced Tuesday by the State Highway department and the borough.

The larger of the two programs will be the "complete reconstruction" of Manatawny and State streets from High street to the Route 100 bypass. The estimated cost of the project is $160,000.

The second project is the repaving and leveling of North Hanover street from Beech street to the borough line. The estimated cost of the project is $100,000.

TARGET DATE for the start of construction is "early next Spring," according to George Biron, chief engineer of the Philadelphia office of Blauvelt Engineering company.

The engineering firm was awarded the State contract for the program. Its home office is in New York city and it has offices in most of the major cities throughout the United States.

Preliminary engineering field work by a crew of six began Tuesday, Biron said, and should be completed in three weeks.

DEVELOPERS TO PRESS FOR AMENDMENT

Council to Be Asked For Approval of Apartments

The developers of a proposed $500,000 garden-type apartment said Tuesday they will continue to press for an amendment to the zoning ordinance despite Monday's defeat by the planning commission.

The planning commission voted 3-0 to recommend that council turn down the request for an amendment that would lower the requirements from 3000 to 1800 square feet per apartment in a garden-type development. The proposed 48 unit development allows 1900 square feet per apartment.

Joseph L. Prince replied angrily Tuesday afternoon to the commission's decision and branded it "a unilateral action without the respect to let me know that the question would be discussed.

"The least they could have done was have the courtesy to let me know that the matter would be discussed so that I could present our arguments for the development," Prince explained. He is the attorney for the development corporation headed by Philadelphian Clair

SCHOOL BOARD SECRETARY IS HIRED AGAIN

Lower Pottsgrove Raises His Salary

Lower Pottsgrove school directors hired their experienced secretary, Michael J. Petrick, for another four year term Tuesday night and gave him a raise at their regular meeting in the township elementary school.

Petrick, a 10 year member of the board, was commended for his past service and given a $100 per year raise, to $600.

His rehiring was one of several personnel matters dealt with by the board in a brief meeting.

Treasurer Arthur T. Jenkins also was returned to office, for a one year term at the same salary he now receives, $100 per year.

MRS. VIRGINIA F. SHULTZ and her daughter, Virginia R., both of Pottstown RD 3, were hired as supervisors for the school-sponsored Summer playground program at the same rate of pay they received in the positions last Summer. The board approved holding the recreation program from July 3 through Aug. 11 at the elementary school. It is financed largely through money from the township commissioners and by State reimbursement.

400 Local Pupils Will Participate In Safety Parade

Nearly 400 pupils from local elementary schools will participate in the Pottstown Automobile club school safety patrol parade and rally on May 13.

Nelson M. Gehman, secretary-manager of the local office of the national association said that 240 pupils from the public school would be in the parade and more than a hundred from the parochial schools.

He added that each school would have their own theme, which they would carry out in the parade.

The parade will begin at 9 a. m. ending on Pottstown Junior High school's Franklin Field. It will start on West High street at Manatawny street and move east on High street to Franklin street.

Judges will review the parade at a stand on High street between Hanover and Penn streets.

After the parade the state police will present rodeo acts at Franklin Field to which the public has been invited.

Senseless Murder of Kin Shocks Close Knit Family

A senseless crime of violence suddenly takes the life of someone beloved to a large family—just as Mrs. Joan Marie Kalina Fink, 21 year old mother of two small children was brutally butchered to death in her Ephrata home by a 13 year old "mild mannered" lad who stabbed her 15 times because he developed "an urge" to kill her.

The immediate news of the tragedy cast a pall of gloom and despair over more than a score of sisters, brothers, aunts, uncles and cousins. Among those touched by the violent murder was Mrs. Regina Kalina Newcomb, Benjamin Franklin highway, Douglassville, an aunt of the victim and an employe of Kott's Bakery at High and Charlotte streets.

Following an interlude of shock and distraction, the relatives gather to reminisce—as if the futile conversation might miraculously bring back their loved one.

"But you can't bring her back. That's the thought that stays with you through it all. No matter what you do or say—the ifs and ands and buts—she's gone forever," ponders Mrs. Newcomb.

MRS. NEWCOMB, wife of Thomas A. Newcomb and the mother of three girls, broke down when asked about her niece.

PLANNING IMPROVEMENTS—Laying the groundwork for a quarter-million dollar State financed improvement program for Manatawny, State and North Hanover streets are borough officials, State Highway department personnel and engineers from Blauvelt Engineering company, of New York City. Holding the tape are (left) Robert Rowland, of the State Highway department, and Earl J. Case, borough director of public works. Standing (left to right) are Borough Manager Robert H. McKinney Jr.; Highway-Sewer Committee Chairman John R. Hoffecker, Norman Fetterolf, an engineer for Blauvelt; Joseph Daley, a State Highway department official; and George Biron, chief engineer for Blauvelt's Philadelphia office. Field studies started Tuesday.

Bumpy Hanover Area, Twisting Manatawny

Detailed engineering plans will take another six to nine months to complete and "then the actual scheduling of a starting date is up to the State Highway department."

Ninth Ward Councilman John R. Hoffecker, in announcing the project as chairman of the borough council highway-sewer committee, called it a "wonderful program — one of the most important things that the State has ever done for the borough."

"This means the end of two of the worst traffic conditions in the borough. The highway-sewer committee has been after the State to repair both streets for several years since they are State owned highways—but the completeness of their program is even more than the committee hoped for," he continued.

THE MANATAWNY - State street project, Hoffecker explained, includes the widening of the road where possible, installation of all paving, curbing, sewage and drainage facilities and the leveling off of the road.

"At one point along Manatawny street they will even change the course of the Manatawny creek slightly to widen the roadbed," Hoffecker continued.

The most immediate gain to the borough as a result of the Manatawny-State street project is the State's decision to install the storm sewer from Beech street to Fifth street. The borough had already ticketed nearly $12,000 for the project in its 1961 budget.

The North Hanover street project, as well as the Manatawny-State street project, includes the laying of a 10-inch stone base and a three-inch coat of blacktop. The North Hanover street project also includes the levelling of the dips and bumps which have given driving a "somewhat nightmarish quality."

Borough Manager Robert H. McKinney Jr. called the project "even more important than the Route 100 bypass," explaining that the two streets should eventually become major North-South traffic arteries.

"Now driving conditions on the two streets are in such poor condition that wherever possible the driver avoids them," he explained. "This means that other streets get more traffic than they normally would, and therefore, they are in need of repair much quicker than normal."

The decision by the State Highway department followed by less than 45 days the highway-sewer committee's decision to "exert all possible pressure . . . to see that something is done to improve the condition of the two streets."

"But I never thought they would act so soon," Hoffecker admitted Tuesday night. "But I certainly am glad they did."

SCHOOL BOARD SECRETARY IS HIRED AGAIN

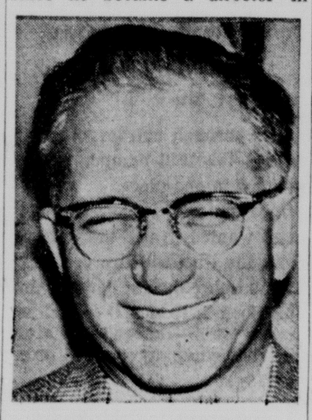
as secretary, Board President Harry J. Pollock praised him for his application to his work for the school district.

"The secretary of any school board is a person who holds the reins and who knows just what has been going on. That's particularly true on this board," Pollock said.

"The title of president should be his in view of his knowledge and experience."

Petrick served as secretary since he became a director in



MICHAEL J. PETRICK

1951. The board cited the secretary's increasing involvement with preparation of tax rolls and the rise in living costs as reasons for the raise.

WHEN JENKINS was nominated as treasurer he promptly commented, "I don't believe the work of the treasurer has increased at all," and indicated he was satisfied with the $100 per year.

Jenkins joined the board last July as successor to John Kurtz, who resigned because of the press of business. Jenkins became treaurer in September when David Shearer resigned.

The board approved payment of $15,000 to the jointture, bringing the total for the fiscal year to $325,000. A total of $8014 is outstanding but the directors indicated the final payment might not be needed for operating the jointture.

The Lower Pottsgrove district now has a balance of $46,327 on hand.

A special meeting for preparing the Lower Pottsgrove budget was set for May 12 at 8:15 p. m. in the township elementary school. The jointure meets Friday for tentative adoption of its 1961-62 budget, it was announced.

Several, perhaps all, of the Lower Pottsgrove directors will go to the annual Montgomery county school directors conference next Wednesday night in Norristown, it was indicated.

Educators Elect Carlisle Snively

Carlisle Snively, headmaster of Wyndcroft school, was elected a member of the executive committee of the Pennsylvania Association of Private Academic Schools at the annual association meeting at Friends' Select school, Philadelphia on Monday.

The association is the accrediting organization for the independent school of Pennsylvania. Snively is also a member of the Elementary Curriculum committee of the Independent Schools Education board, a national association of independent elementary and secondary schools.

Snively will meet with parents of children of the school and the Wyndcroft board of directors Monday at 8 p. m. in the school. Reports will be presented at the corporation meeting.

Mother Sues Ann Sothern For Support

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Ann Sothern's 76-year-old mother sued for support Tuesday, saying she is poor and her daughter is a millionaire.

Annette Yde Lake asked $1,200 a month. She said that since April 1 Miss Sothern has refused to assist her.

Mrs. Lake said she is living with a friend, Mrs. John Dickman. She listed the actress' net worth as in excess of $1 million, with an income of more than $240,000 a year.

Mrs. Lake, a former concert singer, said she will have to live on charity if she is not cared for by her daughter, and she is suffering from advanced arteriosclerosis.

The suit said Mrs. Lake has been divorced for many years from Walter J. Lake of San Bernardino, Calif., and wishes to continue living with Mrs. Dickman.

The actress Tuesday night said through a press agent: :"I was deeply shocked at the filing of the action by my mother. I have been for many years the sole support of my mother and have always provided for her generously. I intend to continue to do so. My mother is suffering from a multiplicity of illnesses, and until April 12 was hospitalized and receiving proper medical care and attention which I was happily furnishing."

Stowe Youth Fined For Drunken Driving

Joseph Matthew Mack, 17 year old Stowe youth who was certified for trial in Montgomery county criminal court after being arrested on a drunken driving charge, was fined $100 and costs after pleading guilty before Judge Robert Honeyman Tuesday.

Mack, who lives at 800 block West High street, was arrested March 16 by West Pottsgrove Police Chief Gerald Miner. Two days later, Judge E. Arnold Forrest signed an order for Mack to face the charge in criminal court.

OBITUARIES

Leslie Strunk Jr., Hero Of World War II, Dies

Leslie G. Strunk Jr., 39 year old Purple Heart veteran of Pearl Harbor and the Pacific theater of World War II, of 1403 Hilltop road, Lower Pottsgrove township, died unexpectedly after becoming ill at his work in Bridgeport Tuesday evening.

The father of two collapsed while working as a die caster at the Sesco corporation, Bridgeport, shortly after 5 o'clock. He was dead on arrival at the Montgomery hospital, Norristown.

Montgomery County Coroner Dr. John Simpson, Norristown, released the body Tuesday night to the White Memorial home, Parker Ford. There will be no autopsy, he announced.

Mr. Strunk was born in Cedarville, a son of Leslie G. Strunk Sr. and Lillian (Yocom) Strunk, 530 Laurelwood road. He was the husband of Esther (Fisher) Strunk.

HE RECEIVED the Order of the Purple Heart "for having been wounded while performing meritorious acts of essential service during the Japanese air attack" on Pearl Harbor. He served in the Pacific theater of World War II with the Seventh Army Air Force.

MAN CHARGED WITH PASSING BAD CHECKS

Arrested In Room With Bags Packed

A bad-check artist released in Pottstown recently after covering several worthless checks, was jailed on four more fraudulent check charges in Reading Tuesday.

Nicholas A. Syrellis, 34, of Reading, is being held without bail in Berks County prison on a detainer over similar check charges in Norristown.

One of the checks noted in a Reading warrant was drawn on the Montgomery County Bank and Trust company here. A Montgomery bank spokesman said Syrellis has written other bad checks on the bank, totaling "about $300," for which warrants have not yet been drawn.

Reading police are seeking an accomplice in the rash of bad checks, and the Federal Bureau of Investigation will question Syrellis concerning interstate violations.

SYRELLIS MADE good worthless checks and paid legal costs amounting to $317.60 April 19 before Justice of the Peace Raymond C. Kelley, and cnarges were dropped by Theodora Govatos, office manager of the Hotel Shuler, where Syrellis passed the bad checks.

At the time of his arrest by Police Chief Harold E. Hahn and Detective John Kirlin last month, Syrellis said he had served time in Berks county for previous bad check charges.

He was picked up Tuesday at his Reading rooming house, with his bags packed. The warrants issued against him cited a $135 check written to a Temple motel, a $68 check at a Reading shoe store, a $95 check at a Reading hotel and a $60 check to William S. Lenhardt, Reading.

The Montgomery bank spokesman said it anticipates other warrants on other checks Syrellis drew against an account in the local bank. Syrellis made a deposit and was given a checkbook at the bank when he came to Pottstown in the middle of April.

Serving Writs Not Eating Grits is Daily Fare Of Today's Modern 'Blue Serge' County Sheriff

Top Law Officer is Vital Cog In Courthouse Operation

Unlike his counterparts in many sections of the United States, particularly in the west and southwest, Montgomery County Sheriff Peter J. Reilly doesn't wear a 10-gallon hat, pack a six-gun or ride a bronco.

With far less glamour and showmanship, Reilly and a staff of 10 full-time deputies and clerks operate one of the busiest and vital offices in the Court House.

Although the law designates Reilly as the highest police official in the county, he does not usurp this power, leaving enforcement to other agencies.

"We have excellent local police departments so that I am not required to take an active part in patroling the county", he explained.

The office of Sheriff, however, is charged with performing many other official functions. Without the sheriff the courts would find it almost impossible to operate.

ONE OF the big jobs is serving writs on defendants in a variety of civil matters which originate in the prothonotary's office. The legal complaints involved include divorces, trespass and assumpsit actions, injunctions, levies on personal property and real estate.

In 1960, Reilly's three full-time outside deputies served a total of 5317 writs. In many instances, he pointed out, his men were forced to return two or more times before they were able to locate the person for whom a writ was issued.

"In cases like that," said the sheriff, "we will wait around all night if necessary until we find the party we are after."

Another important duty of the department is transporting and guarding prisoners under indictment to the county courthouse for trial or to far distant places where they are wanted for a crime.

TO HELP with this work, Reilly employs 30 part-time deputies who are paid on a daily basis. Their duties consist mainly of guarding prisoners between the county prison to the courthouse.

Last year, the total number of prisoners involved was 247.

The sheriff also is charged with issuing gun permits. He said it is essential that the privilege of carrying a weapon does not fall into the wrong hands.

To make sure of this, Reilly, since he took office in 1956, has lifted approximately 400 permits from people who, in his opinion did not need them.

In order for a person to obtain a permit, Reilly insists that the application be signed by a local chief of police or some other responsible official of the community who is acquainted with the applicant.

In the majority of cases, gun permits are given to individuals who are engaged in carrying large sums of money, or serve as guards. At the present time, 1302 permits are in force and must be renewed periodically.

THE SHERIFF also sells personal property and real estate seized at the suit of creditors. Last year, at 11 sheriff's sales, Reilly disposed of 137 parcels of real estate and sold 178 pieces of personal belongings.

In addition, it is his duty to summon jurors to serve at each term of civil and criminal court. After being furnished a list of the 175 names picked by the jury board, Reilly's staff sends official notice to each individual.

The process is followed up by making certain that each juror reports to the court or furnishes a valid reason why he cannot serve.

Reilly said that the volume of business in his office has more than doubled since he took office, keeping pace with the increase in the county population.

In 1960, the sheriff's office collected a total of $153,437 in fines and costs, most of which was imposed by the courts in criminal cases.

As an example of how sheriff's office operations have benefited the county, Reilly said that last year he turned over $7368 to the county treasurer after all the expenses of his office had been settled.

Along with his regular staff, Reilly also has a solicitor, Attorney Walter Phipps Jr., to advise him in legal matters.

Weapon Repeals

HERRIN, Ill., (AP)—Gene Whitecotton, 20, wounded in the left leg when a .22 caliber pistol discharged accidentally as he showed it to a friend, vowed:

"That's all; I'm getting rid of that gun."

Six months earlier he was wounded in the right leg with the same weapon, while practicing a fast draw.

CHOOSY THIEF

LINCOLN, Ill. (AP) — A discriminating thief who is either frugal or considerate has baffled police officers.

The thief borrowed $18 from a money bag, but left another $50 in the bag.

BANKS WILL EXHIBIT

LONDON (AP)—Russians will get a chance to see how private banks operate at the British trade fair opening in Moscow May 19. Representatives of major British banks will have exhibits touching all aspects of private banking.

ACCEPTED BY UNIVERSITY — Stephen Pronchick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Pronchick, of Ellis Woods road, Pottstown RD 1, was accepted by Pennsylvania State University for admission in the Fall. Time to Abolish Office

THE borough mourns the sudden death of Lawrence O. Garner, Pottstown treasurer who passed away after a heart attack.

Mr. Garner was not widely known, as politicians go, but he was a member of the select circle in power at borough hall for more than a decade.

While he was not widely known, he was the subject of many a political controversy. At least his office and his salary were. It was likely the argument was not a personal one.

That's what prompts this editorial, which certainly is not intended as a mark of disrespect to a man who just has passed on. For Mr. Garner was a personal friend of this column and greatly admired.

But for years there has been much agitation to abolish the office of borough treasurer. This time seems appropriate to allow the office to lapse, or to wipe it off the books.

The borough treasurer's office paid $1200 a year. It entailed little work. Most of the detail was done by the borough secretary's office. Mr. Garner (and his predecessors) did little more than sign the checks.

Since economy is the watchword at borough hall, and since funds are needed for the performances of many services, it follows that this may be a good time to abolish the office.

In Case of Real Alert

THE best time for Russia to wipe Pottstown off the map would be at the height of a Civil Defense alert at, say, 3 o'clock on a Friday afternoon.

That's about the best time for complete relaxation, as a CD alert showed last week. Wailing sirens, stern commands by police, blocking the streets by fire trucks didn't stop traffic or send citizens to their shelters.

Pottstown went about its business as usual. Curious women telephoned borough hall to find out where the fire was. William F. Heilman, Pottstown CD director, shouted at a motorist to take cover. The autoist literally thumbed his nose at the official, jumped into his car and drove off.

Pottstown displayed monumental apathy toward the CD alert. All these words won't shake the people out of their apathy. They'll go their way, without wondering just what would happen if an atom bomb were dropped here.

Would they run to a shelter, or just to their cellar, which may be shelter enough? Would they turn off the water and electricity? Would they do anything to prevent fire? What if a real alarm would come with the children in school, the father at work, and the wife shopping?

Surprise attack is not so remote a possibility as years ago. The Soviets are advancing more rapidly in the nuclear war and it's about time the Red space flight, the Cuban and Laos debacles alert Pottstown to harsh possibilities.

Pottstown flunked its CD test with almost a zero mark, Mr. Heilman admitted.

What's next? Maybe the next test should come at night and the TV set suddenly blacked out. Maybe that'd give us time to ask ourselves some questions about security.

Youth's Challenge

RIGHT now, Pottstown parents probably are being swamped with youthful reminders of our current Clean Up-Paint Up-Fix Up program, with pledge sheets, check-up reports, school projects, etc.

You may be slightly amazed and perhaps a bit amused at all this civic zeal, but for your town's sake it is essential that you at least equal this enthusiasm about the Clean Up-Paint Up-Fix Up program.

We are all agreed that it is a fine thing for the children to learn about city government, how it functions, and how we must augment it, and become acquainted with cooperative efforts for the good of the whole.

However, if you, as a parent, don't actively support the campaign, much of the civic lesson will be lost. Obviously, what you do influences your children even more than what you say. So, if you ignore the Clean Up program, your children will probably lose interest, too, and the program so carefully planned will have little effect.

And remember, Pottstown needs adult effort coupled with the youthful chores to make the drive a living civic lesson.

Our children realize the value of a campaign and are responding with interest, enthusiasm, and work.

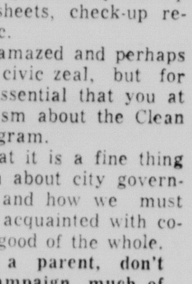
Grampaw Oakley

PUNKIN CORNERS,
May 2.

Editor, The Mercury,
Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see by the papers where coffee consumption in the US, now about 400 million cups a day, will increase, predicts the department of commerce. Things certainly seem to be perking in the java business.



Wonder if that will affect coffee breaks—more of 'em or just longer ones.

An advocate of nudism says if everybody became a nudist there'd be no wars. At least, no clothing price war.

And say: Russia's new deluxe model television set has been taken off the Soviet market, Moscow announces. It wouldn't work. Probably broke down under the overweight of all those propaganda programs.

Vincent Faces Population Explosion

Plan For Future!

To the Editor: East Vincent township must look ahead. It needs a planning commission of qualified citizens to study its needs, chiefly population growth and control of developments.

Our supervisors are ignoring these problems and treating them as if they did not exist. This "do nothing" policy can only result in chaos and decreased property values.

A planning commission composed of five citizens of the township drawn from various walks of life should be appointed at once by the supervisors. This group should be asked to study the needs of the township, taking the wishes of the citizens into account, and gathering data on land use, the extent of business development, future needs, etc.

Consideration might also be given to the possibility of encouraging industry to locate in the township with a view towards helping pay a portion of the school tax load.

East Vincent is going to be hit within the next few years by a wave of population growth. Now is the time to prepare for that growth by taking steps to guide and control it so that the township may continue to be a desirable place in which to live.

This Mid-Air Bit

To the Editor: Russia's astronaut talks about hanging in mid-air while he was weightless as he orbited the earth.

It would be nice if some of his compatriots, like Khrushchev, could be left hanging in mid-air—permanently.

Pennsburg JEFF

Protests Borough Order

To the Editor: I wish to protest a decision by the borough condemning a building at 634 Lincoln avenue and the way you received your information. It appears your headline was acquired at the expense of the owner's standing in society.

My purpose in writing was to find out why and by whose authority the building was condemned. Surely we've all held parties in our homes. Is this any reason for someone to come along, see a few bottles and dirty glasses around and condemn the house?

Your paper stated there was a series of fires. As far as I'm concerned there weren't any fires. According to your headline the main thing was the building was dirty.

It appears when a building catches fire twice in one day that instead of condemning the building because of dirt the borough should try to find out what caused the fire. Or does dirt cause fires?

I feel the wrong decision was made and should be corrected. I failed to receive any further information concerning the matter other than the place was dirty from the building inspector.

634 Lincoln avenue CALEB W. MILLER

(EDITOR'S NOTE: An order the building was to be demolished because it was a fire hazard unfit for human habitation was issued by Borough Fire Marshal Lewis J. Kirby April 24. Kirby's report, carried in The Mercury, described the alleged unsanitary conditions in the building.)

Hot and Cold

To the Editor: Know why this is called a "Cold" War? Because our side ain't doing so hot.

Trappe CUSH

Cuban Invasion

To the Editor: The invasion of Cuba failed simply because the great mass of the Cubans are fully satisfied with their form of government and have no wish to revolt against it.

Castro's enemies may look upon him as a tyrannical dictator, but to the majority of the Cuban people he is a beloved leader who has brought them economic reforms, social justice and self respect.

They loyally support him, and they will fight against all who attempt to overthrow him.

Douglassville FAIR PLAY

The Voice of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Broadway Grapevine

JULIUS LA Rosa's glamorous young wife has undergone surgery in an attempt to save their expected baby. Doctors are optimistic.

John Merivale will help Vivian Leigh furnish her new home in Tickerage Mill, Sussex, England, but they won't see much of it because in July they leave with the Old Vic on a world tour that will take more than two years. The dramatic safari starts in Australia, goes through the Far East and ends in Mexico. (And it's a good bet that they'll be making the trip as Mr. and Mrs. Merivale.)

Kay Gable turned down hundreds of thousands of dollars to do a biography of Clark Gable but consented to edit a picture book on "the King" so his many fans will have it to cherish.

Elvis Presley, getting raves for his performance in "Wild in the Country," is so hot now he's wanted by almost every network for the one spectacular he's said he'd be willing to do this year. There's not even a question of price. He can name it—they're all eager to pay it.

PHIL CROSBY'S wife, Sandra Drummond, has withdrawn the suit for separation and expects to wing East to join him here.

Aristotle Onassis could declare his current trip here a business deduction (as if he needed one!) if he decided to invest his loot in the U. S. He was just offered control of a large Texas corporation.

Reports filtering out of Hungary tell a sad story: The Russians have been very hard on this particular satellite because of its poor obedience record, and conditions are dreadful, but the people are so closely policed there is little chance of revolt. Also, those citizens who would like to start an uprising against the Reds are convinced there would be no help coming from the Free World.

Interesting twosome on the West Coast: Marlene Dietrich and Barry Sullivan.

ELLA FITZGERALD was so excited by the surprise birthday party tossed in her honor at Basin Street East that she couldn't sleep a wink that night after cutting the cake. Many of the show world's greats slipped in to pay tribute to her — among them Harold Arlen, Kim Stanley, Johnnie Ray, Eli Wallach and Sarah Vaughn — and the bosse bosses of the club presented her with a diamond brooch.

Publicity stunt if I ever heard of one: Starlets at 20th Century-Fox plan to picket because of a recent edict banning the wearing of blue jeans to studio classes.

The new place to go in Gotham is the First Nighter on East 58th street, where Stan Freeman plays at the piano bar. He knows every good show tune ever written, is obliging about requests, and now and then throws in one of his own parodies. His Rodgers and Hammerstein version of "Suddenly, Last Summer" is priceless.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

FRANK SIMISON is a magazine writer who recently visited my office for some data about this column.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "why did you decide to throw your lot with newspapers?

"Specifically, what made you leave the college campus to become a syndicated columnist?"

For generations my family has been made up of teachers and clergymen.

My brother and I both studied to be college professors. He is still a campus professor, while I have become a professor of the nationwide campus of American newspapers.

BACK IN 1924, I was teaching psychology at George Washington university, Washington, D. C.

My classes were crowded, with as high as 150 students per course. I taught the psychology of advertising, salesmanship, personnel, child rearing, etc.

But I found then that the students, as well as the audiences which I would address at PTA meetings, were full of doubts and uncertainty about many practical family and social problems.

PSYCHOLOGY THEN, as well as now, didn't have all the answers to such problems in life, but it did have many proved and tested solutions.

But over 80 percent of our Americans never entered college, even for one semester, so if psychology was restricted just to university folks, it would miss the vast majority who could profit by it.

So I decided something should be done to help spread the proved facts for the more abundant life.

The daily newspaper reaches almost all Americans who can read, so I decided it was the most universal educational agency in the land.

Send for the booklet, "Behavior Test for Teen-Agers", to Dr. Crane, care of The Mercury, enclosing a long 4-cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20c.

Inside Television

By EVE STARR

STARR REPORT: "December Bride," one of TV's hardier perennials, is all over the dials these days on a re-run basis but its prettiest asset Frances Rafferty, is no longer all over Hollywood.

She has, in fact, removed herself from the scene to a point exactly 212 miles north and has learned, among other things, how to help a mare deliver a foal. She is also, so far as I know, the only actress extant who knows what to do when a horse comes down with the colic.

Still a fine if only occasional actress, Fran has given up the Hollywood scene in favor of quarter horse breeding on a 34-acre ranch in Atascadero, a sleepy little inland hamlet of some 11,000 inhabitants lying half way between Los Angeles and San Francisco.

She and her husband, Tom Baker (that rare soul who once looked at a TV show and said, "I can write a better script than that" —and did), sold their Hollywood home last July, put every dime they could scrape together into the 34 acres and went into business with four quarter horses. They also have cattle, chickens and pigs. Also two children, 10 and 8, who are gleefully discovering that life in the country beats the daylights out of life in Hollywood.

ON RARE occasions Fran drives back to do a show and is currently doing her first in many months, a part in a "Perry Mason" episode.

I was never a dedicated actress," she says frankly, "but I'm still a good one and the loot from an hour show comes in mighty handy around a ranch. Frankly, we're scrounging. If we make ends meet, we figure we're way ahead. And we love it. What kept us above water the first six months was 'December Bride'—those lovely residuals."

Aside from helping to run the ranch, Fran also has found herself teaching ballet to no fewer than 25 Atascadero youngsters, lecturing at community gatherings and plunging happily into Northern California politics as an embattled rancher-housewife.

"WE LOVED Hollywood while we were here", she said, looking fondly around at the familiar surroundings of the Brown Derby, "but you just don't know what living is until you chuck it all and start over again from scratch. And I mean scratch.

"The nearest veterinarian is 50 miles away so we've both studied animal husbandry, keep a dispensary right in the barn and there's practically nothing we don't know about sick horses and can't handle ourselves. And go to try that on a Hollywood soundstage," she adds proudly, her eyes sparkling.

Fran will never do another series ("What? And leave that lovely broken-down ranch? Not on your life!") but wants to land a number of commercials ("They pay better and longer and take less time") Aside from that, she's now a dyed-in-the-wool rancher and horse breeder. And I'm not at all sure but that she's happier than any of the rest of us.

Future U.S. Policy Toward Cuba Clouds

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The past of United States policy toward Cuba becomes more clear and its future more clouded as the post invasion mortem continues.

The project was a national one, fashioned in its early stages by the Dwight D. Eisenhower administration and adopted by its successor. Despite President Kennedy's acceptance of responsibility, the invasion was not the child of any one man or restricted group, and by this token it was a national failure in which responsibility is widely spread.

Critics have been given new fuel for their contention that such acts, in Cuba and elsewhere, can only serve to drive pro-Communist elements more firmly into the arms of the Soviet Union. Fidel Castro has now proclaimed a Socialist (Communist) state and completely repudiated his original promise of elections.

The United States continues to say that it will not counter Fidelism with direct military intervention.

At the same time Kennedy and many of his advisers are known to think that additional economic sanctions can make small contribution to the eventual downfall of Castro. A blockade cutting of Cuban trade, especially supplies from the Communist sphere, might have an effect, but would be a virtual act of war with many ramifications in Latin-American and world opinion.

The abortive invasion is still a topic of world discussion and criticism. It has been getting more attention than Laos in the British press, which still bitterly remembers the American reaction to Suez in 1956.

One point of takeoff for much of the criticism is that the United States seems to be turning toward a military answer for Communist expansionist tactics. The Manchester Guardian Weekly says this is to ignore the real nature of the world conflict, which it describes as ideological.

But the arming of Castro and the Laotian rebels by the Soviet Union is not an ideological measure, nor is the massing of Communist troops in China and North Viet Nam whose only objective must be Southeast Asia. Nor is the constant attention of Red China and the Soviet Union to objectives which are a part of their traditional, not merely Communistic, policies of territorial expansion.

The United States is now seeking the answers to broader problems than Cuba.

Large economic and educational programs testify that the ideological and economic conflicts have not been forgotten.

But the emphasis now is on preventing Communist conquest and consolidation of territorial gains into an eventually irresistible force, which would leave Western culture with no field on which to fight.

Clean Up Crews Find Old Kitchen Sink

local supervisor for William J. O'Hara's refuse collection agency said his men collected some 36 tons of waste material.

"By the time our crews got to several parts of the borough early Tuesday morning", Reider said, "Doyle's men already had cleared away most of the trash."

"I got several calls from people who called in Monday asking my men to make collections", Reider added. "People were astounded to find the trash all gone when they woke up Tuesday morning."

Borough highway and refuse collectors weren't the only ones contributing their share to the Clean Up campaign Tuesday.

Borough Fire Marshal Lewis J. Kirby made a circuit of borough streets and alleys, checking for any possible fire hazards caused by residents putting out trash for borough crews.

In an alley behind the 114 Manatawny street home of Francis Becker, Kirby found a large pile of felled trees and other refuse completely blocking the alley.

"I told Becker he would have to cut up the trees and put the debris in containers for the borough men to pick up. As they were, they caused a fire hazard by blocking the path in case a fire truck needed to get through," Kirby explained.

BOROUGH HIGHWAY Chief Reider issued yet another appeal Tuesday to borough residents to "be considerate of borough workers" by not making unreasonable requests of his department.

A case in point he said, was a call he received from a woman at Fifth and State streets. This woman asked Reider's men to pick up some hedge trimmings and tree limbs.

"One of my crews went out to check the call, and asked the woman where the trash was she wanted removed," he recounted.

"Her startled reply was, 'What d'ya mean, where's the stuff? Why, it's all over the yard, where else!

"'After all', she went on, 'it's Clean Up Week and you guys are supposed to do the cleaning up'", Reider reported.

"Well", Reider chuckled, "My men explained to her they couldn't take any stuff unless it was properly prepared. But she was still shouting when they drove away".

ACCORDING TO Reider, there is no single area in the borough where collections are more concentrated than elsewhere.

"Monday most of them were in the center of town", he said, "but Tuesday was different. Most were in the East End."

He expressed belief more and more people were getting down to indoor clean up chores.

"Most collections Tuesday were such items as quilts, blankets, bedspreads, mattresses, old papers, broken furniture and appliances", he pointed out.

What was the oddest item collected Tuesday?

"An almost new motorcycle a man was told to get rid of by his wife", Reider noted.

Scavengers Make Extra Work for Clean Up Crews

Borough Highway Department Superintendent Stanley H. Reider said Tuesday The Mercury's Clean Up Week campaign was getting "outside help" this year.

Source of the unsolicited aid, he said, was in the form of early morning visits by two Reading scrap metal firms.

"We've received numerous reports from borough residents their trucks have been going through the borough ahead of borough trucks, scavenging scrap metal from piles of trash put out for our collections," Reider said.

He added that, although he considered these efforts ingenious, he wished they would stop, as they were causing a lot of extra work for borough crews in cleaning up the mess the scavengers left behind.

2 Brothers Escape Injury in Fall

A 16 year old Pottstown youth and his infant brother escaped serious injury Tuesday afternoon in a tumble down the stairs at home.

William Lukoski and 1 year old James Frederick both were examined at Pottstown hospital and released. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Frederick, 811 Spruce street.

William was treated for a sprained ankle after an X-ray showed it was not broken. James was determined sound after an X-ray of his skull.

Petition Heard By Supervisors

Limerick township supervisors heard a petition from Frank Rumler Tuesday night, requesting the Reading Railroad to stop using a land depression between the railroad bank and Sanatoga river road as a dump.

At the same time, the supervisors advised that an orderly landfill of the area, also requested by Rumler and two representatives of the railroad, would have to be approved through the zoning commission.

Rumler said an orderly landfill of the area would be necessary to make it safe. He brought photographs of the depression, — 20 feet in depth, 50 to 60 feet wide, and approximately 1000 feet in length — which he said indicated the area was not safe.

Russell Trefsger, president of the board, said the railroad stopped dumping refuse in the area about two weeks ago.

In other business, the supervisors paid bills in the amount of $1500.

CAR ABANDONED

Pottstown police early Tuesday found a car abandoned in the intersection of West King street and Potts drive. It is registered in the name of Joseph Hrubochok, 5 K street, Penn Village, but Sergeant Paul Smith and Officer Barry Rohrbach were told at that address that Hrubochok no longer lives there. The car was towed to Pottstown Auto Refinishing company.

County Commissioners Endorse Clean Up Campaign

The Montgomery county commissioners have endorsed the Pottstown "Clean Up-Paint Up-Fix Up" campaign.

County Commissioners Elkins Wetherill, Warren M. Cornell Jr. and Daniel T. Costello urged "each of our citizens to observe it by taking an active part in this constructive program for community improvement to insure its success."

In their proclamation, the commissioners declared that the "general health and welfare of our citizens depend upon wholesome surroundings arising from good clean living conditions" and that "lives and property of our people are endangered by fire caused by cluttered conditions in homes, factories, alleys and streets . . ."

They noted that a "clean community, whose homes and shops are well-painted and in good repair present a bright and pleasant aspect to all, promotes health, safety and creates good citizenship."

COOPERATION IS FINE, BUT . . . Borough Fire Marshal Lewis J. Kirby ponders what can be done with a pile of sawed up wood tossed in an alley behind the home of Francis Becker, 114 Manatawny street Tuesday for borough crews to cart away. A few minutes lated he told Becker the wood had to be sawed into shorter lengths and bundled before borough highway crews under Stanley H. Reider would take it to the borough dump. Kirby said several incidents similar to this made the work of borough employes cooperating in The Mercury's Clean Up Week campaign difficult.

C. R. WYLIE WILL HEAD UF DIVISION

Budget Conference Hears Three Agencies

Charles R. Wylie, president of the Memorial hospital, will serve as chairman of the advance gifts division in next Fall's United Fund campaign. Wylie's enrolment in the volunteer job was announced by Frederick L. Raker, general campaign chairman.

No goal for next Fall's appeal has been set yet. Budget sessions with member agencies are now being conducted. Last Fall funds amounting to $218,542 were obtained for 28 health and welfare agencies.

Wylie was one of the UF leaders in every campaign since the first one ten years ago. Since then a total of $1,701,426 has been raised.

The United Fund held budget conferences Tuesday with representatives of three agencies. The UF considered 1962 requests for funds. Those agencies were:

United Cerebral Palsy, which requested $3724; Arthritis and Rheumatism, which requested $1600, and the American Red Cross, which requested $36,000. Allocations have not yet been determined.

A. C. KLEVICKIS, president of the local United Fund, will hold a meeting of the executive committee at noon today in the Brookside Country club.

Tomorrow the fifth of eight budget conferences will be held at the Citizens office of the Philadelphia National bank. Representatives will be heard from the Montgomery County Chapter PARC; Young Women's Christian association, and Memorial hospital.

TV Interference Blamed On 'Ham'

Robert Rhoads, 414 Jefferson avenue, has more to contend with than most folks when it comes to watching his television programs — more, even, than commercials and jets passing overhead.

Rhoads told Pottstown police he is receiving the transmission from a nearby ham radio operator. Rhoads confronted the operator, William Oister, 410 Jefferson avenue, with his tale of woe.

Oister said his set had been inspected and tested and shouldn't be received over TV. Oister produced certifying papers to this effect.

Yet Rhoads says he clearly picked up Oister's call letters over his TV set, along with a communication with another ham operator.

Pottstown police say they will notify the Federal Communications commission if Oister cannot clear up his problem to Rhoads' satisfaction.

Kiwanians See Slides On Holy Land Trip

A pictorial trip through Israel, with a sound track supplementing the color slides, was taken by members of the Kiwanis club Tuesday night at the regular meeting conducted in the Elks home.

Ralph Levitz, well known local businessman, presented the program, sponsored by the Public and Business Affairs committee. Alvin Weiss, chairman, introduced Levitz.

Vice President Alan Levengood was in charge of the meeting attended by 58 members.

$16 Million Dam

lature will provide for the Tohickon project", he stressed.

But, he added, a bill currently being drafted by the house legislation committee was expected immediately to initiate work on the Evansburg project.

"This will give us more than $50 million dollars to work with. It should move back the completion date of the overall project more than we ever expected possible a year ago," he emphasized.

Goddard explained consideration of a similar, 4280 acre project in the French creek area was postponed "because the State already was committed to development of 12 dam sites along the Brandywine creek."

"These will cost us an initial outlay of $2,450,000 this year, followed by much greater expenditures in years to come. It would be foolhardy to schedule additional funds for the French Creek area in the face of these expenses," he maintained.

WORK NOW is being planned, however, on overall refurbishing of the mammoth French Creek State park and the adjoining Hopewell National park sites. This work, he said, should begin within the next five years.

He said more than two million sightseers and excursionists visited the two locations the past year from the Philadelphia area alone.

"And their numbers are expected to increase each year," he avered.

"One of the biggest reasons Route 23 was reconstructed was this 'overnight' transformation of the park area from a rarely visited swimming and fishing reserve to one of the most popular spots in the State," he added.

"Existing facilities have proven wholly inadequate. It will take our every effort to make provision for expansion of the site in line with its growing popularity," he underlined.

DR. GODDARD depicted the Evansburg site as a link in a chain of 19 lakes and recreational areas in the Delaware basin, stretching from Hawk mountain in New York to Wilmington, Del.

The Evansburg project calls for a 1120 acre lake surrounded by a 3360-acre parksite. This combine of facilities would be located on the Skippack creek one mile below its confluence with the Perkiomen.

Current plans for the project constitute a noticeable drop in acreage under consideration for the site. The past June, Army engineers set the amount of land needed at 6416 acres.

The completed project, as Dr. Goddard outlined it, would provide a much needed watershed for the Eastern Montgomery county area.

Upon completion, it would provide a vacation paradise, offering such attractions as swimming, boating, camping, hiking and picknicking. By the year 2010, it is estimated it would draw more than 1,500,000 tourists annually.

WHEN FIRST proposed the past Spring, the project was described by one high State official as part of a plan to "ring the metropolitan Philadelphia area with a network of flood control, water supply and recreational combines."

Dr. Goddard underlined the fact the Evansburg program, when completed, would have immeasurable value to the Pottstown area.

"It will provide, as well as recreational facilities, an invaluable safeguard against increasingly recurrent drought conditions. By its water supplying nature, it also would bring large industry to the area.

"A program of this sort is absolutely necessary to insure steady economic and industrial growth in the Pottstown area," he said.

"These facilities are necessary to improve the livability of the area. A multi-purpose development of the area's resources also will give the taxpayer twice as much for his dollar by combining water conservation with recreational provision," he concluded.

EARLIER ATTEMPTS to begin the much talked about program in the area met with partial frustration when irate citizens along French Creek protested the program would lead to "inexorable depreciation of their properties."

The Army engineers conducted a hearing into the matter in Reading, and decided the wisest course for the time being would be to shelve the French Creek phase of their plans.

The exhaustive, two year research program carried out by the Army Engineers at a cost of $12 million was the only part of the project paid for by the Federal government.

All other expenses will be met by allocations from the State government.

Property Owner Asks Police Surveillance

William Bishop, Buchert road, Pottstown Route 18, Tuesday requested Pottstown police to patrol property he owns at 25 King street, to prevent a continuance of vandalism. Bishop said neighborhood children are stoning the windows and crawling onto the house and garage roofs.

Local Lions Review Activities of Year

A review of the past year's activity highlighted a meeting of the Pottstown Lions club Tuesday night in the Brookside country club.

Reports on such programs as the current seal campaign, and the past Fall's sale campaign both aimed at helping those afflicted with partial blindness were submitted. Charles Boyle was in charge of the meeting attended by 40 members.

Motorist Escapes As Auto Rams Pole

A car driven by William F Crossman Jr., 219 Yost street Spring City, received damage of $300 when it struck a utilit pole on Swamp pike near Sanckey road, Limerick township Tuesday at 4:45 a. m. Cressma was uninjured. Troopers Emili Liberatore and Harry Jadick o Jeffersonville barracks investigated the crash.

Your Horoscope

The Stars Say—By ESTRELLITA

For Today

FIND TIME to take care of partnership finances, payments and collections. You can solve tax and estate problems by late afternoon. Watch expenses.

For the Birthday

If today is your birthday, you should find this year marked by exceptional progress where ambitious and worthwhile projects are concerned. The stellar influences encourage imagination and a spirit of enterprise so if, despite occasional setbacks—especially in June, September and November—you put forth your best efforts, you should find your affairs in excellent shape by year's end.

July, August and October will be good for finances, also for benefiting through the co-operation of others, but don't with the typically Taurean optimism, go overboard in spending or you will negate all advances made. Stick to the conservative path.

Late July and late August will be excellent for travel and romance should prosper in June. Be alert, however, to possible domestic crises in August and September. You can avert these by being your usual kindly and understanding self.

Look for excellent news in December.

A child born on this day will be a loyal, understanding and delightful companion to all.

Republicans Protest Interest Tampering

WASHINGTON (AP) —Recommendations for lower interest rates, a federally aided public works program and studies of tax cut possibilities came Tuesday from the majority of a sharply divided Senate-House Joint Economic Committee.

Most of the Republican members dissented loudly in a report hitting what they called interest rate tampering as a permanent policy. They said "it would be courting inflation and a new gold crisis to plan now new government spending programs."

Three Senate members of the committee, including Democrat William E. Proxmire of Wisconsin, filed individual statements registering varying degrees of disagreement.

The book-length report, carrying dissents and appendages, is the annual review of the economic report of the President. Partisan argument was virtually inevitable this year, since the committee had before it, in effect, two reports—former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's last one and the series of economic messages and recommendations sent to Congress by President Kennedy.

The majority said "we believe and hope" the recession is turning the corner. But it termed the economic upturn in view hardly adequate to do more than provide jobs for the people newly entering the labor force—"while the economy is expected to run faster, it will run only fast enough to stand still."

The majority recommended prompt enactment of the Kennedy economic proposals and added suggestions of its own.

It called on the federal reserve authorities "to cooperate in fuller measures with the administration" and follow policies designed to lower interest rates.

The Treasury was asked to "review the tax structure with a view of recommending a downward revision of taxes—not a temporary 'tax cut'—and make further periodic reviews for the same purpose, say, every five years."

The majority called for legislation "to provide, for a limited time, for federal grants on a matching basis to local communities for immediately needed improvements—such as police stations, streets, parks, water and sewerage systems."

The report recommended also that more money be provided for agencies enforcing the antitrust laws.

The Republican retort was that "the majority report is a narrowly partisan political document which follows the line of carping and negative criticism of the Eisenhower administration, downgrading the United States and the private enterprise system."

The minority members said they question the view that greater federal investment in education, health, housing, research and resources development, whether or not desirable in its own right, "will accelerate the nation's long-term economic growth."

RCA Promises Green Cheese

NEW YORK (AP)—With tongue in Cheek, the Radio Corp. of America promised its stockholders Tuesday to serve them a bit of green cheese right off the moon at some future annual meeting.

Discussing RCA's present space plans, President John L. Burns told shareholders:

"While RCA has no inside track to the moon it does have on the drawing board electronic equipment that one day should find extensive use on the moon's surface.

"When that happy day arrives, we shall celebrate by supplementing your box lunch at these annual meetings with a slice of green cheese."

Crewmen Are Saved From Burning Ship

RECIFE, Brazil (AP)—All 42 crewmen of a blazing oil tanker abandoned ship and were rescued off the northeast Brazil coast Tuesday.

Brazilian navy officials identified the ship as the Novice le Maou. Lloyd's Register of Shipping lists a Novice le Maou, a 10,034-ton tanker, of French ownership.

The crewmen were rescued by the Brazilian tanker Presidente Wenceslau. Officials had no information on whether any were injured.

They said there was little hope of saving the burning ship.

Anti-Communist League Will Meet

MANILA (AP)—Delegates and observers from 25 nations completed preliminary steps today for the seventh annual conference of the Asian People's Anti-Communist League.

The conference opens Wednesday, then breaks up for separate discussions of communism in Southeast Asia, Africa, the Middle East, Europe and Latin America. U.S. Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., will be the keynote speaker.

Commerce Secretary Begins Europe Tour

AMSTERDAM Netherlands (AP) —U.S. Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges arrived Tuesday on an 11-day tour of Europe aimed at boosting trade and tourism in the United States.

Hodges said he expects Congress to pass legislation promoting travel to the United States before he returns home after visits to Finland, Sweden, West Germany, Italy and Belgium.

Senate Education Committee Approves Federal Grants

WASHINGTON (AP) — An 8-1 vote of approval by the Senate Education subcommittee Tuesday started President Kennedy's $2,298,000,000 program of federal grants for public grade and high schools toward a showdown in Congress.

It was in about the same form Kennedy submitted the bill. As he urged, the measure contains no aid for parochial and other private schools.

It appeared the move to provide aid for private schools in separate legislation is dead this year. Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, the Democratic Senate whip, said the party's congressional leaders have decided not bring up any such bill at this session.

The subcommittee's vote sent the three-year public school aid measure to the full Labor and Public Welfare Committee, which is expected to approve it on Thursday or early next week.

Democratic leaders aim at bringing the legislation up in the Senate next week.

Greater trouble for the program is expected in the House, where its Education Committee still is working on similar legislation.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., the only member of the Senate subcommittee to vote against the measure, said he will try to amend it to include loans to church and other private schools.

Unless the mood of the Senate changes, Goldwater's move is expected to fail. Such an amendment, introduced by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., last year, was beaten 49-37. Morse has said he will not support such a proposal this year.

Morse, chairman of the subcommittee, has cosponsored the separate bill to authorize private school loans, however.

The measure approved Tuesday would authorize federal grants to the states over three years to be used for school construction, teachers' salaries or both. The grants would total $666 million the first year, $766 million the second and $866 million the third.

Each state would receive a minimum of $15 for each public school child each year. Low-income states would get larger grants for each pupil.

Mental Health Clinic Elects Slate, Hears Report of Association Meeting

Officers and members of the board were elected Tuesday at the regular luncheon meeting of the Pottstown Mental Health clinic at Howard Johnson's restaurant.

Re-elected to the board of directors were: David Martin, Dr. Clarence R. Pentz, Dr. Alice Sheppard, Leona Smith, Mrs. Ralph Spare, Alvin Weiss and Dr. James Wendell. James Sutton was the only new member and filled the remaining vacancy.

Re-elected as officers were: Dr. Pentz, president; Dr. Sheppard, vice president; Clare Smith, secretary; Martin, treasurer; and Melvin L. Feroe, assistant treasurer.

In other business, the clinic heard a report from Dr. Sheppard on a meeting of the South Eastern Pennsylvania Mental Health association, conducted in Philadelphia recently. Dr. Sheppard reported on legislation affecting mental health associations currently being considered in Harrisburg.

A report on clinic activity the past month was read by Miss Smith. The report listed 92 persons interviewed for the month of April.

Dr. Sheppard presided over the meeting attended by 19 members.

SLAUGHTER BY DOGS—The results of plunder by three dogs on the Upper Pottsgrove poultry farm of Christian Theis, Chestnut Grove road, Pottstown RD 3, are examined by three youths of the township Tuesday evening. The dogs came to the farm while Theis and his family were sleeping early Monday morning and killed 470 young chickens. Many of the birds were killed by bites of the long haired mongrel dogs, while others were suffocated in the panic caused by the attacks. Theis shot two of the dogs Monday morning but a third, red coated dog escaped. Neither of the dead dogs had identification. Unless the third dog is found and owners of the dogs identified, the State is obligated to reimburse Theis at the rate of $1.10 per chicken under State wildlife law, said Floyd R. Klopp, area State dog law enforcement officer from Robesonia. The youngsters preparing the chickens for burial are, left to right, William Boerner, Russell P. Wade and Peter Sechrist, Theis' neighbors and parttime employes on the 3000 chicken farm.

ALPHA TAU MEET

POTTSTOWN AREA MERCHANTS PRESENT THEIR MONTHLY PICTORIAL REVIEW

TONS OF STEEL GO INTO ERECTION OF NEW HOME OF FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION

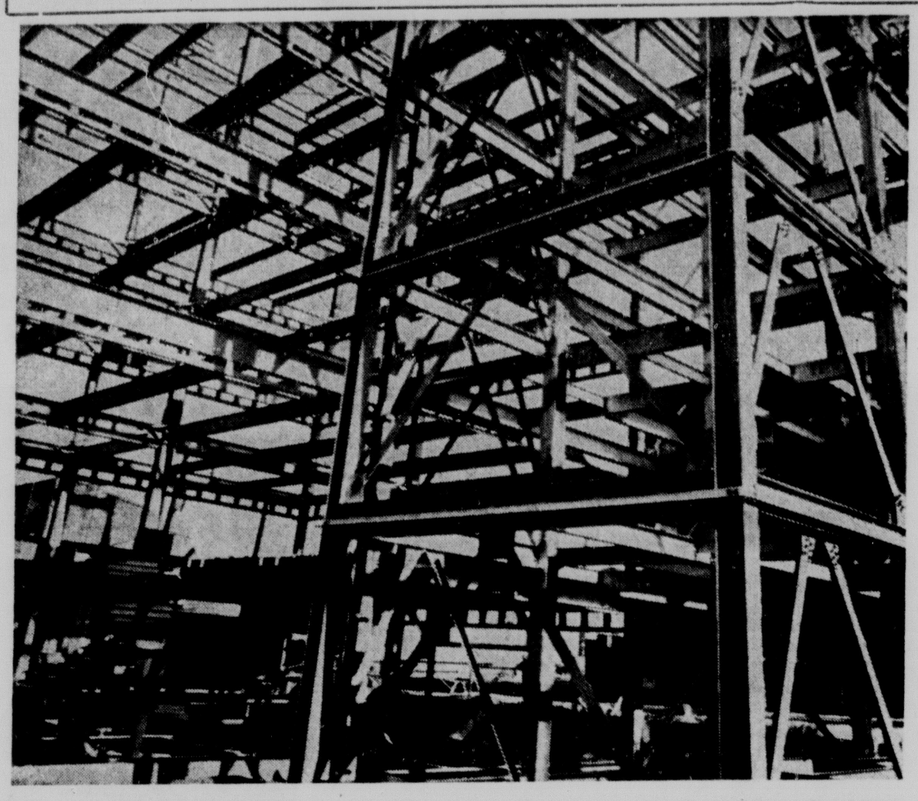

Photo above provides some idea as to the size of Pottstown's newest building—the future headquarters of FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION and offices for a number of businesses. Target date for formal opening of the new structure is December of this year. When you look at the picture you are seeing 340 tons of steel! Completion of this ultra modern building will do much to enhance the appearance of Pottstown's busiest intersection, High and Hanover streets. The new offices will aid materially in the efficient handling of the rapidly growing business of FIRST FEDERAL. In fact, this impressive development was the reason for the new building. Today, assets surpass $21 million and continue to grow steadily. FIRST FEDERAL offers the finest in home financing and savings are an important part of its service; 4% earnings are being paid. Savings are insured up to $10,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation. If you have a financial problem, drop in at the present location, 21 North Hanover Street, and discuss it with Raymond S. Elliott, executive vice president. He'll be happy to assist you.

Bause Stores in Pottstown, Boyertown and Allentown Attract Thousands of Satisfied Customers

As Daniel E. Bause, Sr., owner and operator super drug stores in Pottstown, Allentown and Boyertown, is proud to relate: "Through Our Doors Pass The Finest People In the World —OUR CUSTOMERS!" Reason for such widespread acceptance of Bause stores, according to the owner, is summed up with: "I've been serving the public for 42 years . . . with service and a smile". That his formula has been successful is substantiated by the huge patronage accorded his three stores, one of which is the Pottstown store, at N. Charlotte and Prospect streets, shown above. Bause facilities in Pottstown offer anything from a light snack to a complete dinner, at the soda fountain, to huge stocks of fresh merchandise, sundries and pharmaceuticals. A naturally popular feature is the price range, among the lowest to be found anywhere. Try BAUSE'S and you'll learn why so many people choose it as their favorite shopping and meeting place.

Williams Pontiac Attracts Car Buyers

Pictured above is a portion of the showroom of WILLIAMS PONTIAC COMPANY, East Philadelphia avenue, Boyertown. This firm has gained the enviable reputation of having one of the most modern and complete auto agencies in the entire area. The staff specializes in sales and service facilities. Selection is complete for every type of automobile buyer. GMC trucks are also an important part of the overall business. A visit will convince you of the WILLIAMS PONTIAC CO staff's sincere desire to serve you.

A NEW CONCEPT IN THE M. & H. MARINE DEPT.

This year M & H will feature boats for the fisherman. Along with their complete line of Evinrude outboard motors, they have added Aerocraft aluminum prams, rowboats and canoes. Now the fisherman has to look no further than M & H to satisfy all of his nautical needs. In addition to the Pottstown store at High & York Sts., M & H has 7 other locations throughout Philadelphia, Atlantic City and Levittown, Pa.

Today's News Personalities

Number 1 Astronaut is Versatile Man

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Alan Bartlett Shepard Jr., the lanky Navy commander chosen Tuesday to make the first space flight for the United States, is a man of many faces.

Shepard, 37, drives a white sports car with racing tires. A water ski expert, he can do it with two skis, one or on his bare feet.

But Shepard, with an I.Q. of between 135 and 147, enjoys reading technical manuals and what his wife calls "the big policy-type journals, the kind the admirals and generals say should be read."

Tall, slender and handsome, Shepard apparently thrives on the challenges of life. A native of East Derry, N.H., Shepard, the son of a retired Army colonel, entered the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis and was graduated in 1944.

He decided on Navy flight training. During the course, he impatiently attended a civilian flight school in his spare time so that he could get a private license.

ALAN B. SHEPARD JR.

"Yes," said Shepard recently when asked if he was ready to make the first manned space flight for his country. "The answer is an overwhelming yes — a resounding yes."

He said then of the seven astronauts: "We're ready and confident, even if some people think we're riskng our lves, our health and even our sanity."

Shepard, as a Navy test pilot, flew high-altitude missions, helped to develop the Navy's in-flight refueling system and contributed to research on carrier-landing techniques. He has more than 1,800 hours of flying time in jets and more than 3,700 hours over-all.

The perils of his forthcoming flight are nothing new to him. He has had close calls in experimental planes. And he says his wife, Louise, and the children, Juliana, 9, and Laura, 13, are takng "a calm, rational approach" to the challenge.

Second Spaceman is Veteran Pilot

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The backup pilot who is the United States' second choice to be thrust into space is Lt. Col. John Herschel Glenn Jr., a veteran combat pilot with a sharp mind and quick answers.

Glenn, who at nearly 40 is considered the "old man" of the astronaot group, was named as the standby pilot in case the No. 1 choice, Cmdr. Alan Bartlett Shepard Jr., 37, should not for any reason be able to make the flight.

Subconsciously Glenn may have anticipated his role as the No. 2 man.

He said recently, "Actually, the second, third and fourth flights may accomplish far more scientifically than the first flight does. The first mission is going to be a sort of, 'Gee whiz, look at me, here I am, Maw' type of deal.

"The second flight, once a man has been briefed on what to expect, should accomplish a lot more."

Glenn, a religious man, entered the naval air cadet training program in 1942 and then selected the Marine Corps. During World War II, he flew 59 missions in the Pacific and later flew 100 more in Korea. He was awarded five Distinguished Flying Crosses and the Air Medal with 18 clusters. During the last nine days of the Korean fighting, Glenn shot down three Communist MIGs.

JOHN H. GLENN JR.

He has logged more than 5,100 hours of flying time, including 1,600 hours in jet fighters. In July 1957, flying an F8U jet, he flew from Los Angeles to New York in 3 hours, 23 minutes, the first man ever to make the trip at a speed faster than sound.

Both Glenn and his wife, Annie, are from New Concord, Ohio, although Glenn was born in Cambridge, Ohio. His wife recalls that she and John were playmates before they were 6. They have two children, David, 14, and Carolyn, 13.

Caryl Chessman Prosecutor Is Awarded $50,000

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Caryl Chessman's prosecutor Tuesday was awarded a $50,000 judgment in his $1-million suit against makers of a film about the case.

After six hours of deliberation, a jury voted that amount to Deputy Dist. Atty. J. Miller Leavy. He charged that when he agreed to appear in the film, "Justice and Caryl Chessman," he was assured it was only a television documentary. Later, over his protest, he said it was shown commercially in theaters.

Terrence W. Cooney, the producer, was assessed $7,500 compensatory damages and Sterling World Distribution Corp., which handled the distribution, was ordered to pay $7,500 general damages and $35,000 punitive damages.

Leavy complained that people could have gotten the idea that his appearance had been for hire, whereas he wanted nothing for presenting the facts.

Kennedy Honors Kindergarten Teacher

WASHINGTON (AP) — Helen Adams, kindergarten teacher at Cumberland, Wis., for 17 years, Tuesday received the 1961 national "teacher of the year" award from President Kennedy at a White House ceremony.

Kennedy congratulated Miss Adams and told her the education of the nation's children is the most important responsibility of everyone.

Miss Adams, known to her pupils and the townspeople of Cumberland as "Missy," was picked for the award in a competition sponsored by the U.S. Office of Education, the Council of Chief State School Officers and Look magazine.

Those on hand for the ceremony included Secretary of Welfare Abraham A. Ribicoff; George E. Watson, Wisconsin state superintendent of schools, and Edgar Fuller, executive secretary of the Council of Chief State School Officers.

Ocean Scittis Accept Ocean City Invitation

OCEAN CITY, N.J., (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Ocean Scitti are coming to Ocean City.

The Spring Mill, Pa., couple, whose name is pronounced the same as that of this community, informed Mayor Nathaniel Smith Tuesday that they would accept his invitation to spend the weekend of June 9 as guests of the city.

The mayor invited them to visit this seaside community in Cape May county last November when he learned of the similarity of names.

Scitti said he was given the name Ocean by his father who believed in naming the children after something big.

Scitti has a brother named Pacific.

King Hussein's Future Bride Was Once Telephone Operator

AMMAS, Jordan (AP) — The future queen of Jordan revealed Tuesday she once surveyed her new kingdom from behind a telephone switchboard.

The former Toni Avril Gardiner, 20-year-old English girl King Hussein has chosen as his second wife, told newsmen she was a telephone operator for a film company before meeting the ruler of this Mideast kingdom, and once took a secretarial course in England.

But it was clear the bride-to-be was not a working girl out of necessity. Her father, Col. W. P. Gardiner, is a technical expert with Hussein's Royal Jordanian Engineers. And the future queen in a news conference rattled off a list of private schools she attended in Britain and Malaya, where her father once was stationed.

She also revealed she already is thinking like a queen.

"I shall place myself at the service of this country," she pledged. She dressed plainly to meet newsmen, wearing a skirt and blouse.

Hussein, 25, announced his engagement Monday night in a nationwide broadcast, saying he wants a male heir to his throne. He divorced his first wife, Princess Dina Abdel Hamid, in 1957 after she bore him a daughter during their two years of marriage.

Miss Gardiner, who has taken the name Mona el Hussein and has become a Moslem, declined to speculate on a marriage date, but said her wedding trousseau was being prepared in Britain and would be "arriving shortly."

Col. Gardiner and his wife told newsmen they are delighted with the engagement. And so are the citizens of Amman.

Vast crowds surged through the streets of the capital shouting slogans for Hussein. The army brass band marched through the main streets playing loudly.

A national holiday was proclaimed throughout the Hashmite kingdom, which the British carved out of the Middle East desert and gave to an Arab chief for helping them in World War I.

Modern Manners

By CAROLYN HAGNER SHAW

Author of "Modern Manners — Etiquet for All Occasions"

I received a wedding invitation the other day which made me stop and think. The wording was not only awkward, it also bordered on the ridiculous! It was as follows:

"Mrs. John Philip Dow and Mrs. James Robert Brown, request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Margaret Mary," etc.

Obviously there is a divided family here. A very deplorable one, I would say!

The traditions governing the forms that should be followed when issuing wedding invitations, have come down through many, many years. When these customs evolved, divorce was practically unknown. Therefore it has become necessary to make a new set of rules to cover this contingency.

The main object, in this sometimes confusing situation, is to make every attempt to clarify the different relationships. The above example certainly fails in this respect!

After you figure it out, it would seem that the parents of Margaret Mary are divorced, and her mother has re-married. It is obvious that both parents insisted upon issuing the invitation together.

Wouldn't it have been more dignified to follow the rule of having only the parent the daughter lived with send out the invitation? Of course it would. It is tragic when parents allow their own selfish differences to interfere in the day that should be the happiest of their child's life.

In the case I mention, supposing the daughter made her home with her mother, the correct wording of the wedding invitation would be "Mr. and Mrs. John Philip Dow request the honor of your presence at the marriage of Mrs. Dow's daughter, Margaret Mary Brown, etc."

You will note that her present husband is included, and the surname of the daughter also. The relationships are very clear in this instance.

Had the daughter made her home with her father (who also had re-married), the invitation should read "Mr. and Mrs. James Robert Brown———of his daughter, Margaret Mary," etc. Her surname is not necessary in this case.

If you are in the position of a divorced parent, do try to use a dignified approach, with only one thing in mind—the happiness of your child.

QUESTION: My husband and I recently met a very charming couple when we attended a party at our neighborhood church. They just came to our town to live and have a house just a few blocks from us. Would it be proper for us to invite them for dinner, as a sort of welcome to the community?

MRS. B.C.S.

ANSWER: It would be more gracious to make a social call upon your new neighbors before asking them to dinner. This visit could be made on a Sunday afternoon, so that both you and your husband could go.

BARGAIN TABLE—Borough Manager Robert H. McKinney Jr. has a new table — a massive wooden one that Gov. David Lawrence and his predecessors in the State capitol used to sign bills into law. "No political significance," McKinney explained. "Just a good bargain." The table was picked up at a State surplus sale—for $6. "But we had to put the glass top on," the borough manager added sorrowfully. "Maybe it wasn't such a bargain."

The table will be used for committee meetings—and not as some jokers suggested for a large poker game. Giving it a tryout are (left to right) McKinney's secretary, Mrs. Dene Princenthal; Sixth Ward Councilman Walter A. Bolton, chairman of the fire committee, and McKinney.

time. It is a repetition of this frequent occurrence that the mass tests for children are designed to prevent.

"These figures point up to the importance of knowing if the germ is present," Miss Smith said.

"Body defenses usually wall off the first infection before a person ever feels sick. But from these people come most active TB cases. These people should know the germ is present and receive periodic checkups to guard their health."

Tuesday's tests will be administered by area physicians. The tests have been approved by the medical advisory board of the Visiting Nurses association and the county medical association and have been endorsed by the borough board of health.

Supervisors Pay Bills Totaling $639

Lower Frederick township supervisors voted payment of bills totalling $639.96 in their monthly meeting in Spring Mount firehall Monday. Present were Board Secretary Thomas Z. Hartenbauer and Supervisor Harold P. Whitenight.

In other action, the pair approved a inspection of township roads by supervisors later this month and approved orders for installation of 15 highway speed signs on township roads.

Hit-Run Car Strikes Auto on High Street

Charles S. Pennypacker, Chester Springs RD 1, reported to Pottstown police that a hit-run driver struck the right rear fender and door of his car at High and Adams street Monday morning.

Pennypacker said he was driving east on High street when a blue and cream colored sedan pulled away from in front of an office building at High and Adams street, struck his car, turned west, and drove away on High street.

Two Largest Markets Agree

Bamberski.

THE COMMISSION indicated that it was in favor of garden-type apartments but opposed the recommendation "because it cuts the ground out from under the ordinance."

Prince attacked this premise, pointing out that the Federal Housing authority (FHA) requirement is only 1250 square feet per apartment.

"That is why I am at a loss to to understand why the commission insists on 3000 square feet," he continued.

He also attacked the problem of congestion, pointing out that off-street parking facilities will be provided for 48 cars. "There won't be anymore congestion than there is now, and how can the congestion even be compared to what the swimming club brings in?" Prince asked.

The North End Swimming club would be the eastern neighbor of the proposed apartment. The development is planned for the east side of North Warren street between Prospect and Grace streets.

PRINCE SAID he has asked Borough Manager Robert H. McKinney Jr. to bring the matter up before council at Monday night's meeting. "If they want me there, I'll be there," he added.

"All I want from Seidel and the rest of the members of the commission is the same treatment they gave themselves," Prince noted. He refused to elaborate on the statement, but it is presumed that he referred to the two exceptions granted the Belmont apartments.

The Belmont development, a block north of the proposed development site, was granted an exception to reduce the footage requirements from 3000 to 2200 square feet and another exception to build in an R-1 residential zone. The Belmont apartments has 104 units.

law required everyone to be covered," he continued.

"But maybe the borough should accept part of the blame too," he continued. "I don't remember anyone ever bothering to explain the law or tell us just who should be covered."

MRS. MARION S. Rosenberry, operator of the Jefferson Food market at Jefferson and Franklin streets, called for a "stricter enforcement of the law, not only for small markets like ours, but for the larger markets too."

"It seems as if all the employes of the small stores are covered, but only a few of the ones at the larger markets according to the stories in The Mercury," she continued. "It looks as if someone is getting a break."

The Mercury series pointed out that Food Fair only had 48 of 60 employes covered, A & P 21 of 55 employes covered, Acme 10 of 40 employes covered, Rosenberrys six of 27 employes covered and Food King 11 of 12 employes covered.

Harold S. Miller calls the law "an important one, and one that should be enforced to its fullest."

Owner of Keystone Stores, 51 North Hanover street, he argues that "this is one of the best ways of protecting the customers, and the customers should be protected no matter what store he shops in."

He has five employes in his store and has always paid to see that they were covered. "We keep the certificates on display so our customers know that we're doing all we can to see that they're protected."

Officers Installed At Class Anniversary

More than 50 members of the Baraca clas of the First Baptist church attended the 61st anniversary banquet Tuesday night at the church.

Highlight of the evening was the installation of officers and the showing of the film, "Pennsylvania — Keystone of the Nation."

Officers installed were Edward Y. Good, president; Donald Reiff, first vice president; Glenn Pounds, second vice president; Victor Ayres, secretary; William C. Foley, assistant secretary; Aaron Y. Yergey, treasurer, and Russell Killian, assistant treasurer.

Nuclear Test Ban Discussed

Partial Truce In Laos Brings Shif In Conference of Security Council

WASHINGTON (AP) — Heartened by reports of a partial truce in the Laotian fighting, President Kennedy conferred again Tuesday with the National Security Council.

It was the President's second meeting in two days with the top-level strategy board, and their fifth session in 11 days. Decisions reached at these private White House conferences seldom are announced.

With pressure easing slightly in the Laotian crisis, the prime focus of discussion was reported shifting to another acute problem — the stalemated U.S.-British effort to negotiate a nuclear test ban agreement with the Soviet Union.

Arthur H. Dean, U.S. representative at the Geneva negotiations, and John J. McCloy, Kennedy's disarmament adviser, attended the meeting which lasted an hour and 15 minutes.

No list of all those present was made public, but assistant press secretary Andrew T. Hatcher said participants included officials who are not members of the council.

Kennedy and four other key officials comprise the council membership but others frequently are called into the deliberations.

Hatcher said the council would convene again on Friday to concentrate on a totally different subject. He explained this to mean matters other than the atomic test ban and Laos.

Dispatches from Vientiane said a government negotiator had arranged to begin cease-fire negotiations with the pro-Communist rebels under a provisional truce.

A State Department spokesman reaffirmed U.S. readiness to attend an international conference on Laos "once an effective cease-fire has been verified."

If the eight-month-old civil war can be halted, a 14-nation conference would be convened in Geneva May 12 to work out Laos' political future, but the delay in arraning a cease-fire has been arousing fears of a spread in the conflict.

The State Department spokesman said there had been virtually no fighting in Laos Monday, and there was no information here of any resumption of the Communist offensive. Moreover, he said the Soviet airlift to the rebel forces has slacked off substantially.

Prior to the NSC meeting, Kennedy had his weekly conference with Democratic Congressional leaders and Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, Senate majority leader, reported afterward he was unaware of any plan to send U.S. troops into Laos.

SPACE FLIGHT POSTPONED BY STORMS

Trouble In Rocket Is Reported as Factor

LIQUID OXYGEN LINE IS DAMAGED

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Storms Tuesday halted an attempt to hurl astronaut Alan B. Shepard aloft as America's first spaceman and it was reliably reported that another try will not be made until Friday.

The postponement was announced as Shepard, 37, named only a few hours before as this nation's first space pilot, prepared to leave his ready room for a 3½-mile trip to the launch pad.

He removed his silver space suit to wait once again the beginning of the countdown on the Redstone rocket which is to hurl him 115 miles into space and drop him 290 miles down the range after an arching suborbital flight.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced at 7:40 a.m. that the launching was postponed because of foul weather both at the cape and in the intended recovery zone. It said the shot would be postponed at least 48 hours.

The weather forecast for Thursday was encouraging, but then came a report that the rocket itself was in trouble.

An informed source reported that an X-ray examination of the Redstone showed a liquid oxygen line had been damaged during the fueling operation as scientists prepared the missile for launching Tuesday.

This will require an additional day to repair, the source said.

Liquid oxygen is employed as an oxidizer for the high-powered kerosene which propels the rocket.

The source also reported that if the launching is not accomplished by Sunday, it will have to be postponed at least a week.

This is because of logistics and supply problems involving the seven Navy ships waiting in the recovery area. NASA originally had set Saturday as the cutoff date, but a check with the ships showed they could remain on station through Sunday.

Space agency officials had no comment on the reported Friday date. They were sticking to their original statement of at least a 48-hour delay.

The postponement was caused by two storm fronts converging on the area 290 miles down the range where the astronaut's capsule was to parachute into the ocean some 15 minutes after launch.

One of the storms struck here early in the morning and moved on south. The other storm moved out from the Miami area.

United States Says Cuba Is Definitely Communistic

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Tuesday labeled Cuba a member of the Communist bloc and said Prime Minister Fidel Castro is more "Communist" than most Iron Curtain rulers.

The U.S. view was outlined by State Department press officer Lincoln White in comment on Castro's May Day speech proclaiming Cuba a Socialist state and ruling out elections.

Despite public concern over growing ties between Havana and Moscow - Peiping, the United States had refrained until now from calling the Castro regime a member of the Communist camp.

But Tuesday, White said Cuba "has certainly become a member of the (Communist) bloc."

The U.S. spokesman gave these two examples in saying Castro has gone further down the Communist road since he came to power on Jan. 1, 1959 than most Red rulers:

1. Elections — The Soviet Union and most other Red regimes at least hold elections even though the voters don't get a choice of candidates.

Under Castro, the U.S. statement said, "the Cuban has but one choice, namely to say 'si.'" The mass meetings which Castro portrayed as his substitute for expressing the people's will, according to the U.S. statement, are "very much like Hitler's and Mussolini's mass gatherings."

2. The Socialist state — "socialism," the term Castro used, is the term used in Marxist jargon to describe a society on its way toward the ideal of a purely Communist classless state.

So far only the Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia have gone so far as to call themselves Socialist republics while other Communist-bloc nations including Red China still term themselves people's republics, the U.S. statement said.

"It would therefore appear that Castro considers Cuba further along the Communist road than some other countries in the bloc," White said.

"The average Cuban is in trouble if he so much as shrugs his shoulders. And the tragic part of this is he is in real trouble, to be thrown in jail or even put to death, if he says no," he added.

The U.S. spokesman did not rule out one further choice for Cubans — to try to overthrow Castro.

The Kennedy administration has made plain since the abortive invasion of Cuba two weeks ago that it still hopes for moves to topple the Havana government.

Available U.S. officials were unable to say immediately what legal implications might stem from a formal finding that Cuba is a member of the Communist bloc. Tuesday's U.S. statement was more of a policy or propaganda declaration than a technical legal finding.

As a matter of fact, officials said, the legal technicalities at this point would not make much difference because the United States has already severed diplomatic relations with Castro and has clamped tighter restrictions on trade with Cuba than with a number of other Red nations.

Secretary of Interior 'Appalled' by Letter

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall said Tuesday a friend had gone too far in using Udall's name to solicit the oil and gas industry to buy $100 tickets for a Democratic dinner.

At a hastily called news conference, Udall said he could take care of himself with Republicans "but please protect me from my friends."

Udall said the friend, Jack K. Evans of Asiatic Petroleum Co., had been asked simply to help Udall sell a few tickets to the Democratic dinner here May 27.

But he added that Evans, using Udall's name, sent letters to 56 oil and gas industry representatives, lobbyists, and public relations executives, asking them to buy tickets.

"I did not ask him to solicit the oil and gas industry," Udall said. "I was appalled when I saw his letter. I did not authorize it or see it until a few days after it went out."

Udall, also describing himself as flabbergasted and embarrassed, said he had called the news conference because he believed complete candor was "the way to handle this juicy scandal that has been exposed."

Details of the letter were revealed Tuesday in an article by Peter Edson of the Newspaper Enterprise Association.

In the letter, dated April 5, Evans wrote:

Secretary Udall, who happens to be a friend of long standing, has asked me as a personal favor to solicit the oil and gas industry in Washington in an effort to help the secretary dispose of his 'very sizable quota of tickets for the Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner.'"

Udall said apparently Evans' effort "to participate as a fund-raiser was a complete bust," adding: "Neither he nor I know of any tickets he has sold."

Udall said that when he first found out about the letter from another friend in the industry he asked Evans to withdraw it and undo all the harm he felt he had done. Evans said he would recall it, the secretary said.

In addition, Udall said he had discussed the letter with Evans Tuesday and his friend had agreed the letter was a mistake.

Newsmen were unable to reach Evans for comment.

Udall also said he did not know whether the letter had embarrassed the White House. He said he had not contacted President Kennedy about it, and the President had not contacted him.

The dinner will mark the President's birthday, which comes two days later. The dinner's purpose is to help liquidate the Democratic party debt.

In past years, Udall said, Evans has helped him fill the Arizona table at such affairs. Usually Evans has sold tickets to four or six people, said the secretary, a former House member. He added that he did not know whether they came from the oil and gas industry.

FBI Checks Puzzle Of Plane Hijacker

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The swashbuckler of the airways, who forced an American airliner to fly him behind Fidel Castro's "palm tree curtain," presented a prime puzzle Tuesday night as the FBI checked out multiple leads.

One theory, being explored without confirmation as yet, was that the hijacker was an undercover Castro agent, fleeing the wrath of anti-Castroites suspicious that some tip-off helped Castro defeat the recent rebel invasion.

Authorities would like very much to know what was in the 85 pounds of luggage—45 pounds excess—that the thin, swarthy man who used the nom de guerre of an old-time pirate, carried in three bags.

The FBI spearheaded the investigation, acting under the federal Dyer Act, which prosaically states that anyone "transporting a stolen vehicle" across state lines or the national boundaries, is guilty of crime.

The FBI was saying nothing, but it was learned that authorities concentrated first on finding out the real name of "el pirata Cofresi" (the pirate Cofresi), the gun-and-knife mystery man who took command of a two-engine National Airlines plane over the Florida Keys Monday and compelled the pilot to fly him to Cuba.

Castro militiamen surrounded the plane at San Antonio Airport near Havana, hustled the pirate and his heavy luggage off to downtown Havana, and permitted the plane with its nerve-racked seven passengers and crew of three to return here.

Authorities here looked with deep doubt on the story the aerial buccaneer told pilot Francis X. Riley, as he held a pistol to Riley's head and brandished a steak knife on the 90-mile trip to Cuba, has been offered $100,000 by dic- scribed the tale that the pirate had been offerde $100,000 by dictator Rafael Trujillo to get to Cuba and assassinate Prime Minister Fidel Castro. He confided to Riley that he was going to betray Trujillo and tell all to Castro because he liked the Cuban leader.

Fingerprints are ordinarily the swiftest means of identification but authorities encountered difficulty in getting any of the pirate's. This was because, in a plane where so many people come and go, it is a little like looking for a needle in a naystack.

Federal detectives were not dismissing the idea that "Cofresi" was simply a wild eccentric with no significant purpose in mind.

Pilot Riley called the man "a character" but admitted it was no fun piloting a plane to hostile shores while under the menace of a knife and a silver-plated pistol.

UNDERGROUND SAYS ALGIERS STILL FIGHTS

Pamphlets Claim Salan Takes Command

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — Underground pamphlets proclaimed Tuesday that ex-Gen. Raoul Salan has taken over command of rebellious settlers in their fight to oppose Algerian independence.

The pamphlets were signed by "Organization Secret Army," the major resistance group, and announced: "The fight goes on."

Ex-Gen. Maurice Challe, who surrendered after the April 22 coup, was described in the pamphlets as a traitor. No mention was made of the other former generals, Andre Zeller and Edmond Jouhaud, who, with Salan, were described by authorities as being in flight.

Authorities pressed on with a sweeping purge of administrative services, the widest known in the history of this turbulent city.

Twenty-seven out of 51 general councillors, members of the Algiers Department (county) Administrative Council, were suspended for siding with the short-lived putsch.

Near Algiers, 12 mayors and three deputy-mayors also were suspended.

Brazilian Airmen Killed in Crash

MANAUS, Brazil (AP) — At least five Brazilian air force men were killed Monday when their B25 bomber crashed and burned after taking off from this Amazon River city on a training flight.

Aircraft Carrier On New Mission

With SEATO forces off British North Borneo (AP) — The aircraft carrier Coral Sea and other U.S. Navy ships have split away from a Southeast Asia Treaty Organization exercise. This set off speculation Tuesday that some were headed for the Gulf of Siam.

The gulf is one of the approaches to landlocked Laos, where big power efforts are being made toward a cease-fire to stop civil war between Communists and others.

British ships also assigned to the so-called "Pony Express" maneuvers of SEATO also were reported at sea on unexplained missions.

An American naval source said the Coral Sea, with its supporting destroyers, had departed for a possible Laotian venture by SEATO.

But Rear Adm. Bernard F. Roeder, the officer in charge of the exercise, told newsmen at brigade command headquarters Tuesday evening that the Coral Sea provided "aggressor aircraft" for the initial stages of the war games and had left for its base after completing its mission.

Hepatitis Reported In Puerto Rico Towns

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) —The Health Department reported Tuesday 39 cases of hepatitis have been diagnosed in the central Puerto Rican town of Utuado. A spokesman said 26 other cases have been reported from other towns throughout the island.

Three Seamen Swim From Burning Ship

WILLEMSTAD, Curacao (AP)— Three seamen have reached the shores of this island after swimming through heavy seas from their burning ship, the San Gregorio out of Venezuela. The other two men on the vessel, including Capt. Martin Moreno, are missing and presumed drowned. One of those who escaped is in a hospital with severe burns suffered after a motor explosion set the ship afire.

Police Open Fire On Teacher Group

TEHRAN, Iran, (AP) — A man was killed and three were injured when police opened fire on a group of 4,000 teachers demonstrating outside the Parliament building Tuesday.

The teachers were staging a sit-down strike for higher pay.

Eye-witnesses reported the shooting came after the teachers had disobeyed police orders to disperse.

The 20th Century Minute Men who help defend America

Since 1941, thousands of folks in advertising, communications, and entertainment have pooled their talents to make U.S. Savings Bonds a household word

The first Minute Men put down their guns in 1783 after winning independence for themselves and their Nation.

In 1941 a new breed of Minute Men came to the aid of their country to help sell U.S. Savings Bonds. These were the actors, singers and musicians who entertained in behalf of Bonds all over the world, backed up by thousands of people in America's advertising agencies, newspapers, magazines, radio, television, outdoor and transit media.

A $50 million budget—free

Put all the Savings Bond advertising on a dollar basis and it would approach $50 million a year—a bigger advertising budget than most of the country's largest manufacturers. The total for 20 years of the Bond Program is estimated at $1.3 billion in free space, time and services.

This amount is swelled every day an uncountable amount by the folks in "show business." Yet not one penny of this cost is paid by the government or the taxpayers.

The built-in features

U.S. Savings Bonds are guaranteed safe by Uncle Sam—and guaranteed to grow in value. They pay 3¾% interest when held to maturity. You can't lose your equity—your Bonds are replaced if destroyed or stolen. You can get your money back anytime you want it—with interest.

Every Bond you buy is a share in a stronger America. Come to your country's aid—and your own—now.

"The Advertising Council is proud of its role,"

says Theodore Repplier, President, The Advertising Council

"Everyone in the advertising and entertainment fields and allied industries who has been involved with the U.S. Savings Bond Program will tell you what a rewarding experience it has been. We're proud of our part in the Bond Program which has helped Americans become owners of $43 billion in Bonds today."

TODAY'S TEENAGER

Mary Ann Harner, 16, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Harner, 640 Highland street, Boyertown, and a junior at Boyertown High school. She is in the academic course.

A member of the junior varsity hockey team, she is also on the varsity basketball team, and the tennis team. She is in the Tri-Hi-Y, and the Girls' Leader Corps. As secretary of the Boyertown Area Youth council, Mary Ann expects to move into the presidency next year. She is a member of Good Shepherd UCC, Boyertown.

Mary Ann plans to attend a liberal arts school, although she is undecided which one. She would like to major in foreign languages, either Russian or German. She is interested in most sports, music, and reading.

Hard Playing Youngsters Keep Hospital Busy

As if five banged up tots in one afternoon Monday wasn't enough for the Pottstown hospital dispensary, the record was moved a notch Tuesday with six youngsters being treated for various cuts and sprains received at play.

Dale Engle, 11, of 520 Washington street, was treated for a brush burn of the right arm received in a fall. Edward Smith, 13, of 153 South Franklin street, was released after X-rays showed an ankle injury was only a sprain.

Then three young fellows were cared for in a ten minute period between 7:10 p.m. and 7:20 p.m.—that extra hour of daylight granted to playful kiddies over the weekend:

Michael Mack, 4, son of Mr and Mrs. Lewis Mack, 263 Mervile street, was treated for a laceration of the forehead caused by a toppling shovel.

James Collins, 3½, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Collins, Boyertown RD 1, had five stitches taken in his right eyelid after being hit by a stray baseball bat.

Phillip Scafetta, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Scafetta, 350 Moyer road, suffered a severe cut of the lower left leg when he fell on a piece of glass, requiring nine stitches.

Making it an all-male day at 9:20 p.m. was Daniel DiNardo, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel DiNardo, 206 North Charlotte street. Seven stitches were taken in a forehead laceration Daniel picked up when he ran into a swinging gate.

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love & Marriage

She's Her Own Worst Enemy

Dear Beatrice Fairfax:

When I was 17 year old my mother ruined my life. She wouldn't let me marry the fellow I was crazy about and who was crazy about me and there wasn't any good reason why she felt the way she did.

I think she just didn't want me to get married.

I never felt the same about her after that, so when another fellow asked me to marry him about a year later and my mother was willing, I said yes, even though I didn't love him, just to get away from home.

Maybe it was my fault for getting married without love, but anyhow Dick and I never did get on together and after three years we were divorced, leaving me with a little boy to take care of.

Soon after my divorce, that first boy came back into my life and wanted me to marry him, but by that time I was just disgusted with marriage and told him so. He wouldn't take No for an answer, though, and he stayed around for another year, asking me every once in awhile if I hadn't changed my mind. Finally he went off and married somebody else and now I'm sorry I acted that way.

But now there's another man who wants me to marry him and he's a very fine fellow and my boy and he are crazy about each other and I know he'd be a good father to him. I'm sure he'd be a good husband to me, too, but I just don't love him the way I did that first fellow and I can't make up my mind what to do.

All my friends tell me I'd be crazy to give this fellow up and that I'll never meet a man who would make me a better husband, but I just don't know.

Please tell me what would be right to do.

M. L. W.

Dear M.L.W.:

I wonder if you really are still as much in love with that first fellow as you believe you are.

It's quite possible that because you've always felt your mother ruined your life by not permitting you to marry him, you've dramatized that early romance to the point where you've built it up into the great love of your life, especially, of course, since the young man came back into your life later and once again wanted to marry you.

So, altogether, it could be that you just won't let yourself do the normal and right thing—that is, to put that whole part of your life in the past, where it belongs, and leave your heart and mind open for new happiness to come in. As things are now, you keep both those doors tight shut against any such possibility.

My advice is that you make up your mind right now to give up being your own worst enemy. Let the past go. Tell the fine young man who now wants to marry you that you want a little time to adjust yourself to a new point of view which you hope and believe may eventually make it possible for you to feel about him as he seems to feel about you.

Say that you want to keep on seeing him frequently and you hope he'll be willing to wait awhile. Since he seems to be an understanding and kind fellow, it's likely he'll be glad to do this—and that one of these days you'll be very glad he did.

else, and you feel sorry for them, but you never imagine it could happen to your people."

Mrs. Fink, a pretty 21 year old Reading native, was asleep in her second floor apartment early Monday morning when Harry Anthony "Tony" Madlem, a burly, crew-cut youngster, entered the bedroom and plunged a knife into her back nine times.

He continued to stab her in the arms and breast as she tried to fight him off. She finally collapsed in a pool of blood beside her bed. The boy told police he also had an urge to kill her two children, LeRoy Jr., two years old, and Lorraine, five months, but left them unharmed because they were so small."

The 5 feet 6 inch youth who lived downstairs with his widower father then went to bed for two hours.

MRS. FINK'S husband, LeRoy, a lineman, was at work. A sister-in-law who attempted to contact her by 'phone all morning finally went to the apartment and found the young woman's body.

Mrs. Fink's father and brother live in Reading, as do three sisters, an uncle and three aunts and several cousins. Mrs. Newcomb learned of the tragedy from her sister, Helen Kalina.

Miss Kalina's first knowledge of the brutal death to her niece illustrates the harshness with which the tragedy often is brought to loved ones.

Miss Kalina was returning from a doctor's office in Reading when a neighbor told her of Mrs. Fink's death.

HOPING TO spare her sister the same shock, Miss Kalina called Mrs. Newcomb and broke the news. 'Phone calls among other relatives carried the horrible tale to the rest of the family. It was a tightly-knit family. Several relatives Monday were in deep shock and prostrate with grief from the news.

Few tragic events such as Mrs. Fink's death lack a quirk. The victim visited two married sisters in Levittown over the weekend and intended to stay several days longer—she even had packed extra clothing.

Mrs. Fink decided late Sunday to return to Ephrata, saying merely, "I'd better go home." She went home, went to bed, and was slain before rising the next morning.

Mrs. Newcomb's only comment about the lad who confessed killing her niece: "I just hope they take care of him so that he wouldn't hurt anyone else. God knows why he didn't harm the youngsters, but thank goodness he didn't."

THE MADLEM boy is a Seventh grade pupil at Ephrata Junior High school. His teachers described him as "childish and immature," but "a little above average" in his studies. He had a record of recent truancies.

Ephrata Police Chief Luke Schrom, who will be prosecutor in a murder charge against the boy, said the confessed killer's only other "trouble" was three months ago when he admitted stealing women's undergarments, tearing them into little pieces and throwing them away.

According to the boy's story, he was up at 6 a. m. the day of the murder to eat breakfast with his father. Getting an urge to kill after his father left, Tony went back to bed.

At 7:15 a. m. he got the "urge" again, took his hunting knife with a seven-inch blade and went to the second floor. The door to the Fink apartment was unlocked but blocked by a sofa standing against it. Tony pushed it aside.

He walked through one bedroom where the children slept and found Mrs. Fink asleep, lying on the bed on her stomach. After killing her, he hid the knife and his blood-spattered clothing in the basement of the apartment house, slept two hours and joined his father at a nearby apartment where they planned to move soon. Police picked him up at 1:30 p. m. and the boy admitted the killing soon after.

A series of psychiatric tests will determine whether he will be prosecuted in juvenile court or as an adult.

Firemen Answer 4 Calls In April

Limerick Fire company held its monthly meeting at the fire hall Monday evening. Fred Gunn, president, presided.

Fire Chief Roger Schlicter reported that the company responded to four fires during the month of April. The calls were to a house trailer on Meka road owned by Septimus Wood Jr., an equipment shed on the property of Alfred Petroski and two grass fires.

Both the Linfield and Limerick fire companies witnessed a fire drill exercie at the Limerick Elementary school. An inspection is planned for Monday at 8 p. m. for members that were unable to attend the previous event. The purpose of the inspection is to familiarize the men with the layout of the school in case of an emergency.

Norman Holcombe and Wayne Fitzcharles were accepted as new members.

Next monthly meeting will be Monday June 5th at 8 p. m.

mercial district.

The ground — 308 feet along Moser road and 150 feet along Queen street — will be landscaped and off-street parking for 40 cars provided at the rear of the three buildings.

While the two-bedroom apartments will be rented to the public, Weiner explained that he hopes to be able to rent the one-room efficiency apartments on a year round basis to different industries.

This, he explained to Kirby, would be kept by the firms for use by visitors, officials from others plants and company officers visiting from the home office. He said he already discussed the idea with Firestone Tire and Rubber company.

The land was purchased from Charles Nagle, owner of Nagle center along Moser road. Nagle bought the land about three years ago from Maurice Miller, former chairman of the Pottstown Democratic party.

$80,000 Berman Will Names Wife and Sons

Joseph Berman, of Pennsburg, RD 1, who died April 27 at the age of 83, left an estate estimated at $80,000 according to his will filed for probate in the office of the Montgomery county register of wills. The fund will be shared by his wife, Dora, and three sons, George, Isaac and Solomon Berman.

Cool Weather Belies Age of Maturing Spring

of temperature averages, the weatherman indicated. The first half of March had temperatures averaging almost 4 degrees below normal, but the latter half of the month saw the mercury staying nearly 3 degrees below normal.

The mercury stayed down to 5 degrees below normal through the first 22 days of April, with one exception; then it rose above normal for five days and fell back to another below normal trend that continued through this morning.

Below normal also is the pattern for the next 30 days in the Pottstown area. Temperatures will average below seasonal normals over the entire Northern half of the nation, and precipitation also is, expected to exceed normal.

Tuesday was one of the more pleasant days of the off-beat Spring, but temperatures were some 10 degrees below normal. The afternoon high of 60 compared to the normal high of 69.

The day's saving grace was in sunshine. The morning hours were cloudy and humid, but when the sun came out temperatures went up so quickly that windshields in cars were steamed over.

Generally fair, but cool weather will continue for the next two or three days forecasters said, as a ridge of high pressure moves eastward from the middle Mississippi valley. A high of 60 is expected again this afternoon.

WEATHER OBSERVATIONS

The first Winter weather observations were made on Mt. Washington, N. H., in 1870.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

The association meeting will be May 16 at 2 p.m. in the church house and the May Fellowship will be Monday at Coventry Brethren church at 6:30 p.m.

Divert Traffic From Kitchen Sink

The kitchen ink in the modern home draws enough traffic to resemble wells of ancient history where citizens gathered for news and water. One way to relieve traffic is to add an outlet outdoors for hot water used outside the house.

With outdoor living around the corner, this is a real convenience for keeping barbecue equipment, furniture and even the car spick and span. Locate the faucet near your water heater if possible. You won't notice the difference in hot water supply if your heater is a modern one.

THEY FLOAT

When doughnuts are ready to be turned over, they will rise to the surface of the fat and you will see some color around the edges. It takes from three to five minutes for doughnuts to be cooked on both sides.

ADD LEMON

When you serve browned butter with fish, add a little lemon juice to the sauce.

BEIGE SILK PRINT — has accent marks of green silk organza to circle the waist and dramatize the deep side slashes of the skirt that reveil a narrow skirt underneath. It was designed by Roxanne for Samuel Winston's collection.

Career Girls Club Views Film at Meeting in YWCA

A film entitled "To Smoke or Not To Smoke" was shown by Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Kochel, representatives of the American Cancer society, at a meeting of the Chi Gamma Chi Career Girls club in the YWCA Tuesday night.

President, Janis Dilliplane, conducted the meeting. Plans were made for a cake sale. A mother and daughter banquet was planned for May 9 at 6:30 p. m. at Hotel Shuler.

A dance entitled "Summer Holiday" is slated for June 17 at the Doehler club. The Belaires will play for the affair. Members will attend a play at Valley Forge on June 26.

Attending were: Sue Kruk, Beverly Swavely, Barbara Heft, Lucille Mest, Janet Shanley, Pat Harp, Gloria Templin, Carol Landis, Judith Weiss, Carol Schatz and Melaine Manwiller.

Charles Lambour and Patricia Rhoads Wed in Phoenixville Baptist Church

A wedding of local interest was performed Saturday in Phoenixville Baptist church when Patricia M. Rhoads, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Rhoads, Phoenixville, became the bride of Charles Lambour, son of Mrs. Charles Lambour, 992 Sheep Hill road, and the late Mr. Lambour.

The Rev. Dr. Gustave Gabelman, former pastor of the church, officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Helen Bader Yost was organist and Mrs. Jack Molvie was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a gown of white silk organza with a chapel train. The dress was styled with a sculptured pearl-trimmed alencon neckline and long tapered sleeves.

Her bouffant veil of imported illusion was draped from a halo trimmed with a large cabbage rose. She carried a cascade arrangement of white orchids and stephanotis.

Marlene Hunsinger, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Linda Sue McCord, Holly McCord and Annette Lambour, sister of the bridegroom.

Attendants wore street length gowns of pink and white silk organza. The pink bodices were styled with scoop necklines and short sleeves and the soft gathered white skirts were trimmed with pink rose appliques. Large organza picture hats completed their ensembles. They carried fanshaped bouquets of pink cymbidium orchid and English ivy.

Kenneth Christman performed the duties of the best man. Seating the guests were Russell Meyerse, Ted MacIntyre and Jerrold Rhoads, twin brother of the bride.

Mother of the bride, Mrs. Rhoads, received guests in a pastel pink sheath dress with matching hat. Mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Lambour chose a romance pink dress with a floral hat in shades of pink and white.

A reception followed at Spring-Ford country club. When the couple left on a wedding trip to Florida, the new Mrs. Lambour was wearing a beige silk shantung ensemble with contrasting accessories and an orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Upon returning, they will reside at 744 Church street, Royersford.

To Make Fruit Cup With a Glamour Touch

To produce a fruit cup with "character," a home service consultant suggests you partially thaw a can of frozen concentrate for fruit punch and add one ripe avacado, peeled and diced, a can of Mandarin orange sections and one medium apple cut into chunks. Chill the serving dishes on the coldest shelf in your refrigerator and keep the fruit cup chilled until serving time. When brought to room temperature the dishes will frost, giving the first course a glamour touch.

Velvety Smooth Custard Sauce

This recipe for soft custard makes a smooth, velvety sauce for bread pudding prune whip or snow pudding. Heat 2½ cups of milk over a low heat. If you have a "burner with a brain" set the thermostat at 180 degrees. Add ½ cup sugar and a pinch of salt. Beat 4 eggs slightly.

When the milks is hot, pour about a cup full into the beaten eggs, then pour the egg mixture back into the saucepan. Cook until the mixture coats the spoon..

Turn off the heat and cool the custard quickly in a pan of cold water. Add a teaspoon of vanilla, cover and store in the gas refrigerator until ready for use. Makes 3 cups of custard sauce.

Mrs. Sundstrom Host at Meeting Of Opti-Mrs. Club

A discussion was held on a joint meeting with the Pottstown Opti-Mrs. club in June at a meeting of the Pottsgrove club at the home of Mrs. Austin Sundstrom, 19 Beech street, Tuesday night.

President Mrs. Howard Heath conducted the meeting. Mrs. Arthur Rapine reported on a rummage sale. Pig-in-the-box was won by Mrs. Sundstrom.

The next meeting will be a dinner at Lake Vue restaurant in Boyertown.

Attending were: Mrs. Elwood Angstadt, Mrs. Louis Hartmaier, Mrs. Edwin Levan, Mrs. John Beadle, Mrs. Stanley Jones, Mrs. Arthur Goodhart, Mrs. Gilbert Harvey, Mrs. Frederick Spieth, Mrs. Heath, Mrs. Rapine, Mrs. William Nyman and the hostess, Mrs. Sundstrom.

Century Club Sets Luncheon Meeting At Audubon Shrine

Century club will have its meeting this afternoon at "Mill Grove," home of John James Audubon, famed ornithologist of the early days of the United States.

The manor house and its grounds near the Perkiomen creek at Audubon now is a shrine to his memory and a wild life sanctuary. J. d'Arcy Northwood, curator at the shrine, will speak on "Mill Grove" and its association with the naturalist.

Luncheon will be served at the shrine and members will stroll the trails through the woods to see the bird life and wild flowers.

Members will meet at Library hall at noon for transportation to the meeting.

General arrangements were made by Mrs. Edward Hoffman. Mrs. William Schultz arranged the luncheon and Mrs. Earl Custer, transportation.

Searles Bible Class Has Banquet in Methodist Church

Members of Daughters of The King Bible class of Searles Memorial Methodist church gathered at the church Tuesday evening for a banquet.

The meal was prepared and served by Mrs. Jacob Wahl, Mrs. Joseph Conway and Mrs. Warren Gordon.

Mrs. Elsie Boyer sang several solos. Members joined in group singing.

Mrs. Rose Smedley read a poem she wrote concerning class members. Wife of Searles' pastor, Mrs. Kenneth Buckwalter read one she wrote in reply.

During the business meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. Boyer, two committees were named. Plans to attend and participate in an open house, May 6 at Cornwall home for retired ministers, were discussed.

Mrs. Boyer appointed Mrs. Conway and herself to assist with a family dinner May 14 at the church. She named Mrs. Charles Lightcap, Mrs. Edward Murray and Mrs. Gordon a committee to assist with the church school picnic.

Breezy Bobs Proper Style For Motoring

By VIVIAN BROWN

(AP Newsfeatures Writer)

NEW YORK, (AP)—Elegant coiffures are not for wearing in sports cars, says hairdresser Michel Kazan.

"The only time an elegant hairdo has a proper setting in a car is when a woman is chauffeur driven," he explains. "The proper coiffures for driving or riding in a sports car is one that has an elegance of disarrangement, a hairdo that can look tousled but may be put back in place attractively with the fingers after the drive."

Michel himself is a sports car enthusiast, and he feels our current interest in speed has given us a new perspective on fashion.

"The sports coif should look as if it can be arranged quickly to coincide with the speed picture," he points out, "otherwise you are out of step."

Hair that is exposed to the elements needs protection, he says. And he advises women sports car enthusiasts to have lubricating hair treatments. These will act as a protective coating against Summer sun while riding, to avoid discoloration particularly of bleached and touched-up hair.

A color rinse is one of the best shields against the sun's rays, Michel advises. "It protects the head just as a little glove protects the hand."

Keep a hairbrush in the car and use it as much as possible, he suggests, and don't forget that frequent shampoos are necessary to keep the scalp clean.

QUESTION: We have a one-family, two-story house with a bathroom on each floor. Ever since we moved in, about two years ago, we have had trouble with getting hot water as soon as the faucet is turned on. It always seems to take a minute or two until the hot water begins to run. We had in a plumber some months ago and he said we needed a circulating system. We didn't do anything about it then, but have decided to have it taken care of. Was the plumber right?

ANSWER: We can't be 100 per cent certain that the plumber was correct in the condition existing in your house, for the simple reason that different solutions are necessary for different problems. But the chances are that he made the proper diagnosis. The installation of a circulating system is a recommended cure for hot water problems of this nature. This system calls for placing pipe loops between the hot water heater and the individual fixtures. When hot water comes from the faucet the instant it is turned on, there is a considerable savings over the course of a year in water and fuel. Another remedy for delayed hot water is to insulate the pipes. This is something you can do yourself with insulation purchased at a hardware store, although you might get an estimate on it from the plumber who is hired to put in the circulating system.

I KNOW you were as delighted as I to read the front page "scoop" in The Pottstown Mercury this past Friday concerning a favorite stationery store owned by Mr. Clarence Smith! I have long sung the praises of this unique store because of their wonderful service, their complete and extensive stock, and the general friendly atmosphere of the personnel. You know they genuinely care about their customers when they actually recommend a less expensive item if they know it is just as good—or if it suits your purpose better! You know they are sincere about personalized service when they take time to find you just the right card—even though it may mean only a ten cent sale! Yes,

H. F. SMITH AND SON, YOUR STATIONER AN BOOKSELLER, a landmark at High and Charlotte street in the Arcade Building, will move to a larger store in order to give you even better service, more display area, a more comfortable, modern store in which to shop! They will move across the street to 255 High street, after the complete remodeling and redecorating chores have been accomplished. Smith's have served the Pottstown area for 38 years, and they plan to do an even better job in the future. Imagine shopping among 2500 feet of display area, being able to see and try all the various models of typewriters, office machines and the like, and browsing through cards displayed on an 80 foot long modern card case! You know Smith Cards are distinctively better, because they are the choice selection of the three biggest quality names in cards—Hallmark, RustCraft and Norcross! Each card is individually selected for value and style. Smith's also carry many smaller names in cards—styles which are unusual, interesting, and limited in selection. Smith's have everything you need in the line of stationery as well as a good selection of gift ideas for men, women and children. Their selection of books is extensive, including the latest releases, classics and a huge array of children's books.

THE NEW YORK STORE'S INFANT DEPARTMENT. Their attractive department manager, Viola Decker, has a talent for finding lovely fashions for small fry at prices that even a practical mother like myself approves of! Diaper sets are in sizes 6, 12, and 18 months as well as a select line of 3 month size—really precious and perfect for those new babies who "swim" in the larger sizes! Girls' and boys' creeper sets are in 1 and 2 piece ensembles. If you have not seen the darling little sportswear for little girls and boys—please do before I buy it all! Little capri sets, muu-muu tops with bloomers, boufant lace-trimmed tops with Bermudas, the use of Schiffli embroidery, applique and lace make this a talented collection. Sets are available at $2.98 and higher, with sportswear and dresses to match, also separates can be found to match at prices that begin at just 79c per item! Most things are drip dry, all are finished carefully to withstand rough wear and many, many washings! The toys at New York Store's Infant Department are carefully chosen to be perfect for small children. It's a pleasure to shop in this nice department, The New York Store HAS EVERYTHING — free parking, a choice of charge plans, and the largest selection in town!

THE BRIDE SHOP, formerly at 372 High street, now located at 524 High Street. The charm of each room is increased by decorations and furnishings done in the appropriate style and period The talented touch of Holland-Moritz is seen in every corner, and it proves to me that her good taste extends to everything she does! Women who shop frequently at The Bride Shop know that when a limited group of everyday dresses appeared on a rack, they were immediately scooped up. Because of a lack of space, there simply couldn't be more! In the new shop, Holland-Moritz expresses her fashion knowledge fully with clothes for every mood, from morning casual things, to afternoon sportswear, to the cocktail hour, with dresses for after five, and on into most important evening wear. You will find fashions that are out of the ordinary—the distinctive and daring rather than the commonplace. You will notice the unmistakable fine quality, a hallmark of fashions from The Bride Shop — and this will be just as true of a dress priced at $17.95 as it is of an exclusive bridal gown! Holland-Moritz simply wishes to invite you to visit the shop today and browse through the many lovely rooms. There will be no commercial promotion — The Bride Shop staff will be "at home" to you with a friendly smile, the same careful personalized service they have always offered. I hope I have piqued your curiosity and you will visit Holland-Moritz at the lovely new Bride Shop, newly located at 524 High street! They will be open until 9 p. m. for a few evenings following the opening for your convenience.

Conrad Weiser to Sing Leading Roles In College Opera Workshop Production

Pottstown Junior High school auditorium will be filled with the sound of music the evening of May 20 when Pottstown chapter of The Woman's Auxiliary of Muhlenberg college stages its Spring Project Night.

The group will present the Muhlenberg Opera workshop in two light operas: Gian Carlo Menotti's "The Telephone" and Kurt Weill's "Down in the Valley."

Conrad Weiser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Weiser, 467 Clearview street, will sing the leading male roles in both with Doris Gack, Philadelphia, co-starring. Mr. Weiser is a Senior at the Allentown college.

Arrangements for the event are in the hands of new chapter president, Mrs. Clyde Griffith, Glen Moore.

First committee to go into action was the patron committee headed by Mrs. Harold Smale and Mrs. Elmer Smith. Work of soliciting patrons to underwrite the cost of presenting the college group began at a meeting in Grace Lutheran parish house.

The group includes: Mrs. D. Hunter Klink, Mrs. Raymond Schumacher, Mrs. Willis Henricks, Mrs. Ada Hutt, Mrs. Paul Breisch, Mrs. Ivan Hess, Mrs. Lucy Tapper, Mrs. Rogene Kulp, Mrs. Harvey Kehl, Mrs. Raymond Kohler.

Mrs. Walter Young, Mrs. James Austin, Mrs. Arthur Deery, Mrs. Kate Gotshall, Mrs. Lester Yerger, Mrs. John Saylor, Mrs. Theodore Detweiler, Mrs. Clarence Law and Mrs. Harry Steinmann.

The publicity committee headed by Mrs. Richard Pell began its work with distribution of more than 30 posters throughout the area. Committee members include: Mrs. Albert Jacob, Mrs. John Renninger, Mrs. H. Linwood Hartenstine, Mrs. Kermit Palemacki and Mrs. Rodman Kulp.

Mrs. Griffith also announced appointment of the following committee heads, supper, Mrs. Edna Blackwell and Mrs. Kenneth Davidheiser; reception, Mrs. Luther Rife, ushers, Mrs. Samuel Krouse.

76 Year Old Grandmother Farms Alone

HACKETTSTOWN, N. J. (AP)—"I work as hard as humanly possible. I keep busy all day and sometimes I wish a day was as long as a week."

Work for Mrs. Lucille Jentzen, 76, includes chopping down trees, dragging to the barn with a tractor that has to be hand-cranked, sawing them to proper length and splitting them with a wedge and sledgehammer.

The elderly grandmother lives alone and operates her 140-acre farm off Petersburg rad. She has run the farm alone since her husband died in 1944.

Mrs. Jentzen also cares for a sheep herd which numbers about 30, boards about a dozen heifers, milks her own jersey cow and raises chickens.

The hardest job she ever tackled, she said, was clearing her fields of huge rocks and boulders. "It took several years and a lot of dynamite, but today the fields are clean."

Individual Pot Roasts in Foil Wrap Full of Flavor and Easy to Prepare

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
(Associated Press Food Editor)

At the turn of this century, cooking in paper bags was all the rage. Proponents of the method advocated the "sealed-in" flavor and the fact that there were no pots and pans to wash!

Nowadays cooks are apt to wrap foods neatly in aluminum foil, put the packages in the oven on a jelly-roll pan or cookie sheet, and then serve the dish right in the foil.

Latest of these "package" recipes to come our way is the following for cooking individual pot roasts in the oven. Our tasters thought the result was pleasant and so we commend to you this simple way of providing pot roast and gravy that are both appetizingly brown and savory. We tested this recipe with broiling-weight quilted foil.

INDIVIDUAL OVEN POT ROAST

3 pounds boneless chuck beef (2 inches thick)
1 large clove garlic
Dried herb mix (for meat)
1 envelope (1½ ounces) onion soup mix
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed mushroom soup
1 tablespoon red wine vinegar
1 teaspoon sugar

Cut meat into 6 servings; place each on a strip of foil wide and long enough to enclose it generously. Silver garlic and insert in slits in pieces of meat; sprinkle meat with herb mix. Mix the onion soup mix (in dry form just as it comes from envelope) with the undiluted condensed mushroom soup, vinegar and sugar; spoon over pieces of meat. Wrap foil loosely around meat, making drug-store fold at top and turning up ends several times so packages won't leak.

Place on jelly roll pan or cookie sheet. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven about 2 hours or until beef is very tender; gravy will not be thick. (Test beef by opening one package). Makes 6 servings.

Menu Note: We liked these individual oven pot roasts served with mashed potatoes and buttered green peas and celery.

PEAS AND CELERY

1 can (8½ ounces) very small young peas
1 cup finely diced celery
Salt and pepper
1 or 2 tablspoons butter

Drain pea liquid into a small saucepan, add celery; boil gently until celery is tender-crisp—about 5 minuts. Add drained peas; reheat; drain off liquid. Add salt and pepper to taste and mix in butter until melted. Makes 3 servings.

MOCHA CREAM

If you like mocha flavor, whip heavy cream with a tablespoon of instant coffee powder and confectioners' sugar to taste (about 1/3 cup). Fill and frost a small chocolate layer cake with the cream.

NOODLES

Cook a package of thin noodles until almost soft; drain and fry in deep hot fat. Serve with piping hot chicken and vegetable broth.

5 Women Named To YWCA Board At Annual Meeting

Five board members were elected at the YWCA annual meeting in the Y.

New board members are: Miriam L. Altenderfer, Mae Christman, Mrs. James Hallman, Helen V. Purnell and Mrs. Carl Troutman. Mrs. Raymond Blefgen, Mrs. Earl Keiser and Mrs. Robert Meloy were re-elected as board members. Board members will serve three years.

Mrs. William D. Mower, president, conducted the meeting. A nominating committee was appointed composed of Mary I. Campbell, Esther S. Nagle, Mrs. Clarence Pentz, Mrs. George Saurman and Mrs. J. Harold Yocom.

Executive secretary, Katherine Schroeder, presented plans for the new building.

Entertainment was provided by the "Honey Bees," a group of young girls from the Axsmith accordion studio.

PERFECT MERINGUE

Pie meringue: a quarter teaspoon of cream of tartar added to a three-egg-white meringue will help stabilize it. Add the cream of tartar to the egg whites and beat until frothy; then gradually beat in 6 tablespoons sugar, continuing to beat until stiff and glossy. Make sure you leave no gaps between the meringue and the crust when you smooth the egg-white mixture over the top of the filling.

St. Eleanor's Club Women Hear Talk On Founder of Order of Notre Dame

Sister Francis, a sister of Notre Dame and instructor of English at the Academy of Notre Dame, Philadelphia, presented the program at a meeting of St. Eleanor's Women's club in the school auditorium, Collegeville.

Her talk was entitled "Julie Billiart and Her Institute," and was illustrated with slides depicting the life of the founder of the Sisters of Notre Dame.

Mrs. Edward Duffy presided over the business meeting. Officers were nominated and will be elected in May. The following members were nominated: president, Mrs. George Dudinetz and Mrs. Robert Smith, and first vice president, Mrs. Ralph Allen and Mrs. John Hasson.

Also, second vice president, Mrs. Murray O'Cain and Mrs. Albert Zvarick; secretary, Mrs. Eugene Claycomb, and treasurer, Mrs. Adam Boz and Mrs. Michael Gelembiuk.

Plans were completed for the Women's club annual communion breakfast Sunday at the Commercial hotel, Collegeville, following the 7:45 a. m. mass at St. Eleanor's church.

Mrs. George Gillabert, membership chairman, introduced six new members: Mrs. Leon Lupeski, Mrs. Alfred Cymbaluk, Mrs. Ceil Guarnier, Mrs. Albert Sagrantz, Mrs. Conrad Scharf and Mrs. Frank McCabe.

Attending were: Mrs. John Jackson, Mrs. Richard Capaldi, Mrs. John Rinino, Mrs. Frank McIntosh, Mrs. Paul Dwyer, Mrs. John Waldo, Mrs. Murray O'Cain, Mrs. William Osborne, Mrs. Edward McCormick and Mrs. George McCann.

Also, Mrs. Merrill Yocom, Mrs. Eugene Claycomb, Mrs. Kenneth Shirar, Mrs. Albert Zvarick, Mrs. Edward J. Welch Jr., Mrs. Paul Raffeo, Mrs. Charles Styer, Mrs. Samuel Chiccarine, Mrs. C. H. Hill and Mrs. Adam Borz.

And, Mrs. Angelo Cutone, Mrs. Anthony Duhovis, Mrs. Justin Mayew, Mrs. Milton Rhoads, Mrs. James C. Deever, Mrs. T. Joseph Cox, Mrs. Henry B. Haitz Sr., Mrs. Martin Kuklinski, Mrs. Robert M. Smith and Mrs. Norman Rapp.

Mrs. Joseph Malchitsky, Mrs. Arthur Schnee, Mrs. Michael Konoza, Mrs. Ralph Allen, Mrs. Louis Sobotor, Mrs. Paul Henry, Mrs. George Hoberg, Mrs. Dora Hoberg, Mrs. Francis Huguenin, Mrs. John Spillane, Mrs. Jack Greger and Mrs. Pat Bondi.

Girl Scout and Brownie Functions

TROOP 29

Members of Girl scout troop 29 met in Emmanuel Lutheran church to work on flag patrols.

Girls in the Planters patrol present were: Mary Kay Sweda, Sandra Harp, Sandy Satko, Grace Louise Slack, Linda Ellis, Janice Konowal, Sharon Hesh and Donna Yergey.

Members attending in the Four Leaf Clover patrol were: Becky Overholtzer, Carol Petrilla, Barbara Konowal, Barbara Leck, Janet Petrilla, Diane Pollock and Paula Morgan.

Leader is Mrs. Roland Brauch and assistants, Mrs. Norman Baur and Mrs. Elwood Angstadt.

TROOP 70

The first trip of the "Heritage Trail" planned by Girl scout troop 70 is scheduled for Saturday, May 6.

This was decided at a meeting of the troop in Transfiguration Lutheran church. Troop members and drivers will meet at the church that morning at 11:15 o'clock with nosebag lunches and drive to the Lancaster area.

They will visit America's oldest pretzel bakery and will ride through the Amish country on an authentic old-time train, the Strasburg railroad.

Judy Barrett — Sandra Pannebaker

The next part of the trail will take the troop to Crystal cave in June.

Members are planning to keep notebooks of the entire trail including photographs, post cards, souvenir literature and written descriptions of all trips.

Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Ella Orlando and daughter, Madeline. Mrs. Orlando came to Pottstown from England in 1945. She told of her native land, its history, customs and government.

Mrs. Orlando also showed pictures of famous landmarks and of Queen Elizabeth's coronation.

At patrol meetings, Laura Ann Klingerman was elected leader of the troop's fourth patrol, the Owls.

Work will begin on the health aid badge at the next meeting. As part of this badge work and in co-operation with clean-up week, the girls will make safety surveys of their homes and yards.

They will give their reports next week and will learn simple first aid measures.

In charge of the opening flag ceremony was The Gypsies patrol. Members of the color guard were Charlene Benson, Barbara Scram, Sherry Ziegler and Bonnie Sledgen. The Hy-Fis patrol was in charge of the closing friendship circle.

Attending were: Judy Barrett, Charlene Benson, Roseann Burns, Jeanne Grace, Elaine Herrlinger, Sherran Hess, Susan Hess, Donna Hobbs, Laura Klingerman, Jill McKee, Patricia Nichols, Sandra Pannebaker, Joanne Petrick.

Also, Kathleen Polokewicz, Mary Ann Ray, Donna Schatz, Barbara Scram, Irene Shaner, Bonnie Sledgen, Bonnie Stewart, Peggy Wien, Sherry Ziegler, Mrs. Charles Lichtenwalner Jr., leader, and Brenda Fidler, assistant leader.

TROOP 1

Newly elected vice president Connie McCarty conducted the weekly meeting of Girl scout troop 1 at Emmanuel Lutheran church.

An all day hike was planned for June 10. A hoagie sale was discussed. Members are planning to attend a Junior camporee June 23 through 25.

Rehearsal for a play called "The Bobby Sox Brigade" will take place Tuesday. A bowling party is scheduled for Saturday.

Attending were: Connie McCarty, Ginger Johnson, Dorothy Gephart, Linda Renninger, Marcia Swartz, Judy Bartman, Jeanne Angstadt, Helen Mary Yocum, Mary Ann Sharon and Nancy Reifsnyder.

Area Girl, Mistress of Ceremonies At Muhlenberg College Spring Program

Women of Muhlenberg college presented their annual Spring song and ring ceremony on the Allentown campus. Sophomore Sandra Shupe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Shupe, Creamery, was mistress of ceremonies.

This traditional Spring program is in the form of a contest among girls in the various dormitories. The winning group this year presented a series of songs depicting the Lehigh valley as "The Leaky Valley," a comment on recent weather conditions.

Highlight of the afternoon was presentation of rings to girls completing their Sophomore year. The ceremony was performed without rings as they had not returned from the engraver in Europe.

Miss Shupe and Elaine Griffith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Griffith, Glen Moore, were in the group congratulated by Dean of Women Anne Nugent as they reached this point in their college years.

A reception followed the ceremony on the mall, with each of the yomen's dormitories having open house. Families and friends of Miss Shupe and Miss Griffith attended the Sunday afternoon festivities.

Miss Griffith has been chosen as a resident of Bernheim house, the honor dormitory at Muhlenberg. She will live there during her Junior year and receive special training to fit her for service as a counsellor during her Senior year. She is preparing for a career in elementary education.

Catholic Priest to Aid Liston's Search

PAIR TO SEEK NEW MANAGER 'INSIDE LAW'

Heavyweight Contender Denies Tieup With Katz

DENVER (AP) — A Denver priest, The Rev. Edward P. Murphy, said Tueday night he is giving counsel to Sonny Liston, No. 1 contender for the heavyweight boxing title.

Father Murphy's friendship with Liston was disclosed in Philadelphia Tuesday by the fighter, who said the Catholic priest was helping him in a search for a new manager.

Liston obtained a release for $75,000 from his former manager, Pep Barone. Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson said one reason he has not given Liston a title shot is the associates he claims are behind the contender.

Father Murphy, of Loyola church here, said he believed Liston was "just kidding" when he told Philadelphia newsmen the priest might manage him. "I don't know anything about that part of boxing," Father Murphy said.

"MY INTERESTS in Sonny are in the nature of encouraging him to keep going on the right path, to help him maintain his respectability," Father Murphy said.

"Everything else in my relationship with Liston," Father Murphy said, "is of strictly confidential nature and so I can not comment on what Sonny said in Philadelphia."

"I've a lot of confidence in that guy," the priest added. "In my mind he's the greatest heavyweight on the scene. And they're giving him a lousy deal up and down the line."

In Philadelphia, Liston said he was going to New York Tuesday for an interview with a new "suitor" for his contract. "His name is William Cohen," Liston added.

Asked if he isn't already under contract to George Katz, former manager of welterweight Gil Turner, Liston said, "No." Will he sign with Katz? "I don't know," Liston replied.

The Point Spread...

BOBBY MARSHMAN LEFT FOR Indianapolis Monday morning, in search of a "ride" for the upcoming Memorial day "500". Marshman, who was second to Jiggs Peters in last Sunday's 100-mile midget race at Langhorne, will attempt to qualify—if he lands a mount—during the next couple of weeks, before returning home to pick up the wife, who will accompany him to the race . . . Venzke Relays officials are looking for Kennett Square's Don Webster to add his usual touch of class to the May 10 meet, which will again be held under the lights. They are also hoping Boyertown's Dan Stringfellow can beat his own 4:39.6 for the mile, which he turned in the Albright Invitational meet, and maybe take a shot at Roy Feick's long-standing record . . . Webster turned in a sizzling 48s anchor leg a year ago at the Venzkes, and on the strength of his 47.5 anchor last weekend at the Penn Relays, it looks again as though the sky's the limit for the Villanova-bound speedster . . . Stock car racing at the Hatfield speedway, rained out again Saturday night, has been canceled three straight weeks now, and four out of five. This time both the track and the parking lot were quagmires, but still the crowds continue to turn out in force.

POTTSTOWN HIGH TRACK FANS—what few there are of them—are also beginning to wonder when Jim Foster is going to reach the ceiling on the shot put. Small for a shot putter at 185 pounds, Foster's 52-6½ Monday afternoon marked the third straight meet in which he has broken the school record, and puts him right back in running for any stray titles that might be floating around, come District One time . . . Boyertown High track coach Dick Flannery, a Reading product, won the very first open mile held on the Venzke Relays program. Flannery, who replaced Jim Sutton at the Bear helm this year, coached Navy track for four years, and looks as though he could take another crack at the four laps right now . . . Dave Ricketts, whom this corner reported as a member of the San Juan Marlins of the International league during Spring training, turned up last week on the roster of the Tulsa Oilers of the class AA Texas league last week.

OLDER BROTHER DICK RICKETTS won his first game of the International league season last week, besting the Richmond Virginians, 8-4 on an 8⅔ inning stint, in which he surrendered nine hits and fanned as many. It was his eighth win over the Vees in 11 decisions. Only two of the runs were earned. Ricketts, whose record thus far is clean of losses, helped himself with a single and RBI . . . Ever wonder what a bunch of umpires do when they land an off day? Tuesday's Memorial park program, called off for wet grounds, brought Fran Winterbottom, Don Ronnie, Phils' scout Joe Caputo and one of the Wentzels (never did know which was which) together, and they stood around for over an hour, hashing over old times. And if coaches think they have a corner on the market, when it comes to berating officials, well, somebody's ears must've been burning. Guilty parties need not step forward . . . The Pottstown High Spring sports banquet will be held May 17.

POTTSTOWN YMCA BACK IN THE weightlifting picture. "Clapper" White, who now coaches the "Y" lifters, took Dave Thomas, the former Boyertown High footballer, and Laverne Davidheiser to an open novice match at the Norristown Holy Savior club over the weekend, and they won two titles. Davidheiser, a 146-pounder, lifted 635 pounds (185 press, 185 snatch, 265 clean and jerk), to earn laurels as the best lifter of the afternoon. Thomas lifted 795 pounds to win the heavyweight competition. He pressed 235, snatched 245 and hefted 315 in the clean and jerk for his total. The trio will compete in the State YMCA lifts this weekend at the Emmaus Health club . . . The Bally Case and Cooler, and the Bally Lions club will play a benefit softball game Friday at 6:30 at the Goodwill Fire company field in Bally, for Elmer Hess Jr., a 25 year old polio victim. Tickets are on sale at the Goodwill at 50 cents each . . .

Didn't Want to Bowl, Now Top Distaffer on Trooper Maples

(Mercury Sports Writer)

You have to look twice when you enter the house of Mrs. Wilda Bechtel of Collegeville RD 2. There is no question as to the first thing you see. Before your eyes stand bowling trophies of all shapes and sizes.

Upon a more careful examination of the pride and joy of the Bechtel furnishings you notice that the print has both Wilda and Bill Bechtel on various prizes.

Bill is the top bowler in the family but Mrs. Bechtel refuses to take a back seat. "My boss got me into this," she claims when asked how she got started in the bowling sport.

Bill, who has been bowling for "a good many years", was a big help in the development to Wilda's bowling style.

SHE FIRES a 15 pound ball at the maples down Trooper way and just a while back joined the select 200 Club at the popular bowling establishment.

Bill is the "real bowler," says Mrs. Bechtel. She was quite proud of the fact that her hubby is the only male bowler to score better than 250 at Trooper. A quick glance and sure enough there stands the trophy awarded for the high single game.

Wilda, who uses a three-step approach when letting loose at the pins, does most of her stepping at the Montgomery Board of Elections were she holds a position as a clerk-typist.

The Trooper Social league where the Bowling Bechtels have gained most of their memories has eight teams. Wilda and Bill team up with Mary Cassino, Rose Russo, and Bill Butler to comprise the champions of the loop.

MRS. BECHTEL carries a 148 average that is rising a little each week as she puts it. "I don't go for any other recreation," she says with a delightful smile, "but I enjoy my one night a week at the bowling alley."

Bill, who takes the top spot as the talker in the family is proud of his wife's bowling progress. "In order to be a good bowler," he asserts, "you must bowl three or four nights a week." He also points out that higher scores can be made on different alleys as both he and Wilda have bowled at other area lanes and found that the scores varied with the type of lanes.

"I used to bowl a lot better then the 163 average that I now have, but then I bowled in several leagues," he said. Wilda, although a little shy on her bowling fete, gets a unforgettable gleam in her eye when she looks up at the Bechtel trophies. The pair has spent many nights at the Trooper lanes but the one that will stick out the most is the night that she beat the bowler of the family with a 201.

WHAT NEXT?—Mrs. Wilda Bechtel, Collegeville RD 2, dream of future bowling conquests while surrounded with trophies she has already won this year. Left to right trophies are for highest game for women (201), member of the 200 club (center) and member of championship Robins team in Trooper Social league.

Pitt Cage Stars Accuse Dentist Of Bribe Again

PITTSBURGH, (AP) — Two University of Pittsburgh basketball stars testified for a second time Tuesday that a dentist from nearby McKees Rocks offered them lucrative bribes to shave points during Pitt games.

John Fridley of Sharon, Pa., and Dick Falenski of Latrobe, Pa., both Seniors, told a criminal court jury that the dentist, Dr. Edward H. Sebastian, approached them with his offers in December of 1959.

"He said he would bet on all Pitt games and would give me half of his winnings if I would shave points," stated Fridley, one of Pitt's leading rebounders and outstanding scorers over the past three years.

Fridley also claimed that Dr. Sebastian, a former instructor in the university's dental school, offered him a guaranteed admittance to Pitt's dental school, a Senatorial scholarship, a $1000 engagement ring for $400 and a car far below wholesale prices.

Brookside Firsts Lose, 4-3 for Second in Row

The Brookside Country club women's First golf team is finding competition keen in the Sixth cup of the Philadelphia Golf association.

The Brookside unit was handed its second loss in succession Tuesday, 4-3 at the hands of LuLu Temple First, and what's more, goes against unbeaten Philadelphia Criket club Friday.

All even after the first four matches Tuesday, Lu-Lu's Mrs. John Watt and Mrs. Lincoln Sharpless measured Mrs. Martin A. Feit and Mrs. Harold Federman of Brookside to provide the margin.

Meanwhile, the Brookside Second team evened its 18th Cup record with a 4-3 win over Green Valley 3rds, and the two Spring-Ford teams also wound up the day's activity with 1-1 slates.

The Spring-Ford First team bested Merion Fourth, 5-2 in a Seventh cup match, while the Seconds lost, 4-3 to White Manor seconds.

Brookside First winners were Mrs. Ed Hunnicutt, 2-up over Mrs. Aubrey Clymer, Mrs. Morris Gavin, over Mrs. Robert Meili in 19 holes, and Mrs. William Collins, who bested Mrs. Mahlen Gehman, 5 and 4.

Orioles Squeak Past Angels 7-6

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jim Gentile's ninth-inning drive over the right field wall was the deciding shot in a battle of home runs Tuesday night as the Baltimore Orioles defeated Los Angeles, 7-6, before only 6,664.

Gus Triandos and Jerry Adair had homered earlier for the Orioles and Earl Averill, Ted Kluszewski and Leon Wagner connected for the Angels.

Gentile hit a sacrifice fly in addition to his homer. He has had at least one hit in 11 of his last 12 games.

Gentile got the game winning homer off Tom Morgan, the last of five Los Angeles pitchers.

PINSON HOMER OPENS GATES FOR VICTORY

Rookie Ken Hunt Stymies Mauchmen Before Tiring

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds edged the Philadelphia Phillies 3-2 Tuesday night after a bad scare in the eighth inning.

It was their second victory by the same score in two days.

The game had been scoreless until the fourth, when Vada Pinson's first home run of 1961 broke the ice. The Phillies did not score until the eighth when catcher Clay Dalrymple batted in two runs with a single.

Ken Hunt, (2-1) the Reds' prize rookie, gave up only three hits before tiring in the eighth. Dallas Green, (1-2) the Phils' pitcher, who made his major league debut after the start of last season, yielded three safeties before being replaced by Don Ferrarese in the seventh.

The first 10 Redlegs never got to base but then, in the fourth inning, Pinson knocked the ball over the centerfield wall.

The shaken Green allowed a double to Gus Bell and walked Frank Robinson. Then, Gordie Coleman singled, scoring Bell. Next, Gene Freese bounced to Green and the pitcher missed second base, giving Robinson a chance to come home.

The threat ended when Coleman was caught trying to score on Bob Schmidt's foul.

In the eighth, the Phils started out with singles from John Callison and Tony Gonzalez. Pancho Herrera forced Gonzalez and managed to steal second before Dalrymple's third single of the inning which scored both Callison and Herrera.

The win was the Reds' third after an eight-game losing streak that saw them briefly touch the National League cellar bottom.

Mantle's 'Slam' in 10th Nets Yanks 6-4 Victory

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Mickey Mantle hit a home run with the bases loaded in the 10th inning Tuesday, cracking a 2-2 tie and giving the New York Yankees a 6-4 victory over the Minnesota Twins. It was Mantle's eighth homer of the season.

A crowd of 16,669 turned out on a sunny, chilly afternoon to watch the Yankees make their first appearance in Metropolitan Stadium.

Camilo Pascual, the loser, had given up a double to Tony Kubek and walks to Hector Lopez and Roger Maris after two were out before Mantle, batting left-handed hit his grand slammer over the centerfield fence at the 430-foot mark.

It was the sixth time in his career he had homered with the bases loaded and the blow sent his season runs batted in total to 22, tops in the majors. Mickey, hitting in his 14th straight game, had knocked in another run with a single in the fourth inning.

Jim Coates, who pitched three innings after Art Ditmar left for a pinch hitter in the seventh, won his first game. It was Pascual's first defeat after two victories.

After Mantle's homer had made it 6-2, the Twins chased reliever Ryne Duren in their half of the 10th when Harmon Killebrew, first up, homered over the fence in center. Lefthander Luis Arroyo came on and finally retired the side after giving up another run on a double by Earl Battey and a single by Billy Gardner. It was the first run scored off Arroyo in six appearances by the veteran this season.

The Twins quickly opened up a lead for Pascual, who was going after his third straight victory.

Bunning, Tigers Thump Nats, 6-3

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Detroit Tigers retained their one-game lead in the American League with a 6-3 victory over the Washington Senators Tuesday night. Jim Bunning pitched his first victory of the season after two losses.

The New York Yankees had crept to within a half game of the Tigers with a 10-inning win over the Twins in the afternoon.

Bunning gave up 11 hits, but the eight-hit attack that supported him was more deadly. It included Norm Cash's fourth homer of the season, a two-run job over the right field wall; two triples by Jake Wood, the hot-hitting rookie, and a double by that other rookie infielder, Steve Boros.

Joe Hicks hit his first home run of the season for the Senators, and Dale Long banged out three hits for the first time this season, including a pair of doubles.

Cash's homer, which followed a walk to Rocky Colavito, put the Tigers ahead in the second inning. Jake Wood's first triple to deep center and Billy Bruton's sacrifice fly upped the margin to 3-0 in the third.

Senate Seeks Heavy Penalty for Bribers

HARRISBURG, (AP)—Stiff minimum penalties for persons convicted of offering, giving or receiving bribes to throw athletic contests were proposed in the Senate Tuesday.

Sen. John T. Van Sant, R, Lehigh, introduced a bill that would fixe a minimum penalty of a $2000 fine, two years' imprisonment or both.

A 1951 law covering bribery involving athletic events sets the maximum penalty at a fine of $10,000 or 10 years' imprisonment. However, a defendant could be let off with a much lighter penalty.

Van Sant said his proposal, assuring minimum penalties, would help control bribery of athletes such as the recent basketball bribe allegations.

Motorcycles Set To Join Stocks On Hatfield Bill

Hatfield speedway champion Jack Rudy will attempt to wrest the point lead from Freddy Adam when stock car action returns to the third-mile Montgomery county oval Saturday evening.

Nicknamed the "Reading Express" by his owner Walt Siwak, of Newton, Rudy, a 30 year old bricklayer by trade, currently ranks third in the early season PROS point standing.

The biggest deterrent in Rudy's bid to regain his No. 1 ranking has been the weather, which last weekend forced the fourth postponement at Hatfield. A wet track led to the cancellation.

Rudy and Siwak have been a strong driver-owner team since their union seven years ago. Rudy has won three Lehigh Valley titles and Hatfield championship, driving Siwak-built racers.

SIWAK, OWNER of Newtown Auto Engineering, specializes in building stock cars.

Regarded as a dirt track specialist, Rudy pilots the familiar No. 6 (1957 Thunderbird) at Hatfield.

In addition to the regular stock car events, director of the PROS Dick Fleck will introduce the club's motorcycle division, which will appear in two heats and a 15-lap feature.

In charge of the motorcycle group is Dick Trythall, president of the Pottstown Roamers.

Romano Single In 11th Drives Winning Run Home

CLEVELAND (AP)—A single by catcher John Romano in the 11th inning drove in the run that gave the Cleveland Indians a 3-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox in the opener of a two-game series Tuesday night.

Romano's smash to left field scored Woodie Held, who reached first base safely on a wild throw by Chicago third baseman Ted Lepcio and moved to second on a walk to Bubba Phillips.

The Indians had tied the score at 2-2 in the ninth on a home run by rookie Don Dillard. The 380-foot clout over the right centerfield fence was the rookie's first home run in the majors.

The winner was Frank Funk, who came on in relief of starter Jim Grant in the ninth after Grant had been lifted for a pinch hitter. It was his first triumph against one loss. The loser was Russ Kemmerer, the last of three Chicago pitchers, who now has an 0-1 record.

Cleveland scored its first run in the eighth on three singles, one of them by second baseman Johnny Temple, who stretched his hitting streak through the 17 games the Tribe has played to date. A fine throw by left fielder Minnie Minoso cut off another run at the plate.

Some erractic play by the Indians helped the White Sox to their two runs in the sixth inning.

Daley Hurls Kaycee Past Bosox by 7-4 Pad

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Lefthander Bud Daley pitched the Kansas City Athletics to a 7-4 victory over the Boston Red Sox Tuesday night, aided by Marv Throneberry's two-run homer.

Catcher Jim Pagliaroni also hit a homer to account for two of Boston's runs.

Daley, who had lost three while winning only once this year, limited the Red Sox to eight hits and had to pitch out of a jam in the ninth inning. Ike Delock was Boston's starting and losing pitcher. He has a 1-1 record.

Boston threatened when Pagliaroni doubled in the ninth after catcher Haywood Sullivan dropped his pop foul for an error. Pete Runnels walked and Chuck Schilling hit a two bagger, scoring Pagliaroni before Daley struck out Gary Geiger for the final out.

The Sox got off to a two-run lead in the second when Pagliaroni walloped a homer with Frank Malzone on base.

Ram Cindermen Deal Pottsgrove Dual Meet Loss

Spring-Ford's thinclads rallied in the field events Tuesday to post a 58⅔-37⅓ victory over Pottsgrove's Falcons in a once-postponed dual meet on the Royersford track.

The Rams were unable to record but two firsts in the abbreviated meet, but swept all five field firsts to clinch the meet.

Pottsgrove's Dave Boyer won the sprints, clocking 10.6 seconds for the century, and 24.2 for the furloug, despite the fact that the two races were run into the teeth of Tuesday's gale.

The Rams' first victory came in the 440-yards, with Joe Rhile outkicking Jim Sitko of the Falcons, and John Kerstetter of the Rams third.

THEN, despite the fact that there was no hurdles "break," Kerstetter came right back to win the 880 in 2 minutes, 13 seconds, with teammate Rich Moyer in hot pursuit.

The Rams trailed, 24-21 at the end of the running events, but a sweep of the shot put boosted the homesters into a lead they never relinquished.

Litigation Aside, More Trotting Licenses Seen

HARRISBURG (AP)—Chairman Lawrence B. Sheppard said Tuesday he was trying to set up a meeting of the State Harness racing commission to consider the possibility of granting additional track licenses.

Sheppard made the statement in expressing delight over a decision earlier in the day in which the State's Harness racing law was upheld by the State Supreme court in Philadelphia.

"I feel we are stuck on dead center and I think we should try to find a solution," he told a newsman.

The two other commissioners—Democrats Edward Kane of Philadelphia and Martin Cusick of Sharon—left Sheppard a Republican, in the minority in approving a Philadelphia track license at their last meeting.

THE LICENSE went to James Clark's Liberty Bell raceway organization over the objections of Sheppard, a veteran Hanover breeder of harness race horses. The meeting erupted near the end in sharp exchanges between Sheppard and the other commissioners, particularly Cusick.

The action sparked Republican charges in the legislature that Clark's application got favored attention because he was Democratic finance chairman in the City of Philadelphia.

Sheppard said he requested another meeting with the two as of last April 26 and added that one may be set up for either next Monday or May 15.

Sheppard said he thought it was important that the commissioners meet as soon as possible to consider the question of issuing at least one more license.

"IF THINGS stand as they are, everybody is losing—but especially the prospective licensees," he added.

He noted that a licensee would need at least a year to prepare to open an operation. That means he said, the commission should act soon to guarantee racing at more than one track next season.

The commission's action in granting a license to the Clark organization already has been contested in the courts by other groups seeking permission to operate pari-mutuel tracks.

The Supreme court has scheduled arguments here May 22 on a suit which contends the commission violated the administrative agency code because it didn't hold public hearings and permit cross-examination of license applicants.

The suit was filed by Thomas D. McBride, former Pennsylvania attorney general in behalf of the Keystone Raceway corporation, a group seeking to put a race track in Delaware county.

Saperstein Loop Meets Today to Compile Schedule

CHICAGO (AP) — Owners and coaches of the new American Basketball league will meet Tuesday with acting commissioner Abe Saperstein to complete a 1961-62 playing schedule.

"It will be just a routine meeting with drafting a schedule the main item," said Saperstein.

He said the session was scheduled 1½ months ago and had no connection with the special meeting in New York Monday by the board of governors of the National Basketball association.

At that meeting, NBA president Maurice Podoloff reiterated plans of action against any players who jump to the ABL, or any team trying to lure NBA players.

The latest NBA action in the matter came Monday when the New York Knickerbockers, in a suit filed in the U. S. District court of San Francisco, sought to prevent Ken Sears from playing with the San Francisco Saints of the ABL.

"Such suits involving individuals must be thrashed out by the people involved," said Saperstein.

In addition to Chicago and San Francisco, other members of the ABL are Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Washington, D. C., Kansas City, Los Angeles and Honolulu.

Bosox Door Open If Jensen Cares

KANSAS CITY, (AP)—An unrepentant but apologetic Jackie Jensen talked to his boss, Manager Mike Higgins of the Boston Red Sox, Tuesday and reiterated that he's through with baseball.

Higgins, who said Jensen called him by long distance here from Lake Tahoe, Nev., indicated he had hopes the big outfielder's decision may be changed.

Higgins said Jensen called to "apologize completely and sincerely" for the manner in which he left the Boston club in Cleveland Saturday night without consulting the manager.

Jensen said he did not look up Higgins personally "because you are the toughest man in the world for me to face and tell something that will hurt you."

A Red Sox spokesman said Higgins listened to Jensen, offered no argument against the player's decision but immediately contacted Red Sox Executive Vice President Dick O'Connell in Boston.

DODGERS RIP BRAVES 11-9 IN POOR GAME

Spotty Pitching, Errors Give LA 6 Runs In 7th

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers outlasted Milwaukee in a sloppy game of give-away and defeated the Braves 11-9 Tuesday night with the help of six runs on just two hits in the seventh inning.

The Dodgers took advantage of ineffective Milwaukee pitching to offset their poor fielding which handed the Braves six unearned runs in the 3 hour, 13 minute struggle.

Los Angeles nailed down the verdict with the seventh inning rally started by Willie Davis beating out a bunt to third. The Dodgers went on to score on three straight walks, an error, a double by Charlie Neal and a wild pitch before Seth Morehead, the third Milwaukee pitcher of the inning, retired the side.

The Braves erupted in the eighth for three runs, two of them unearned as a result of the fourth Los Angeles error, but finally were stopped by Larry Sherry, the third Dodger pitcher with the bases loaded. Sherry retired the side in order, two via the strike-out route in the ninth to preserve the victory for Jim Golden, who had relieved starter Sandy Koufax in the fourth.

Boyertown JH Romps by 79-49

Boyertown Junior High's thinclads surrendered only four first places Tuesday, as they romped to a 79-49 victory over General Wayne of Paoli on the winners' track.

General Wayne won the 110-yard low hurdles, the 880-yard relay, the broad jump and 100-pound 75-yard dash.

Boyertown won the other four relays, and the remaining dashes as Larry Matz took the 100 and 220.

Haddix Stiffens Cards As Pirates Prevail 6-0

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Harvey Haddix, backed by flawless support, which included three double plays, made his first 1961 victory for the Pittsburgh Pirates a 6-0 shutout over the St. Louis Cardinals Tuesday night.

The triumph, their fifth in the last six games, put the Pirates in first place in the National League.

Haddix' only other start this year produced no decision for him as he was knocked out in the eighth inning of the Pirates' third game, against the San Francisco Giants. In between, he had a bout with the flu.

The little southpaw, whose resemblance to Harry Brecheen earned him the nickname of "The Kitten" when he pitched for the Cards, spaced the Redbirds' hits one to an inning, and only Don Taussig, who doubled in the second inning, got as far as second base against him.

He allowed six hits.

The Pirates picked up a run in the first inning on Bill Virdon's double and Dick Groat's single. Bob Skinner also singled but Ernie Broglio, starter and loser for the Cards, steadied to retire the next three batters, two of them on strikes.

Daryl Spencer bobbled Groat's ground ball to give the Pirates a third inning opening. Bob Skinner singled and when Julian Javier threw wild, the runners advanced to second and third. Both scored on Rocky Nelson's double and Nelson came in on Roberto Clemente's single.

Chicubs Trounce Giants 9-4 With Homerun Barrage

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs used San Francisco's favorite weapon Tuesday—the home run—and rumbled to a 9-4 victory despite Willie McCovey's homer in a belated ninth inning rally that helped tie a major league record.

McCovey's fifth round-tripper of the season gave San Francisco 14 for three consecutive games, tieing the major league mark. But it was no match for a grand slam by Billy Williams or George Altman's two-run blast that helped the Cubs to all of their runs in the first two innings.

Altman's blow, his first of 1961, was one of five hits that shook up starter Jack Sanford in the opening inning. Sanford had an assortment of mishaps, hitting Ernie Banks with a pitch, serving a wild pitch that permitted a run to score and making a throwing error to first base.

Three of the five runs in the first inning were unearned.

After waiking the first two men in the second inning, Richie Ashburn and Don Zimmer, Sanford was replaced by Eddie Fisher. Fisher fanned Banks, then walked Ron Santo to load the bases. Rookie right fielder Williams, who had driven in a run in the first with a single, then unloaded his homer.

Williams got two more singles before the game was over, giving him 4-for-4 day at the plate.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

OLIVIA DE HAVILLAND tells of a famous and glamorous fellow artiste from the Hollywood hills who had married well—and often—and now found it expedient to get another divorce in a hurry. Her lawyer suggested Mexico. "But I don't speak Spanish," she protested. "So what?" said the lawyer. "Whenever there's a pause, all you have to do is say 'si, si.'"

When the star appeared in court, the population of the tiny border town attended. There was much emoting and the star said, "si, si," very firmly on numerous occasions. Suddenly the crowd gave a great cheer. "Well, I guess I'm divorced," she said complacently. "Divorced, my eye," cried her perspiring attorney. "You've just married the mayor!"

There sat a classroom full of bright-eyed Vassar sophomores, the new fashions revealing cute dimples in their knees. A puritanical visiting lecturer from Boston eyed the girls and murmured, "What, oh what, will the styles be up to next?"

First Service of Anniversary Series Is Scheduled at St. John's Lutheran

HIGH CHURCH OFFICIAL WILL SPEAK

Closed Circuit TV Will Be Used

SPECIAL BOOKLET TO BE DISTRIBUTED

The first in a series of services commemorating the 150th anniversary of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, Boyertown, will be conducted at the church on Sunday at the 10:15 a. m. service.

The sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Karl S. Henry, D.D., of the Board of American Missions and a representative of the United Lutheran Churches of America. Due to this special service, there will be no 7:45 o'clock Matin service scheduled.

On Sunday evening, the sons of the congregation, the ministerial students of the congregation, and Mrs. Clara B. Longacre, will take part in the service. Mrs. Longacre is the widow of the Rev. David F. Longacre, pastor of the church from 1926 to 1955. A closed circuit television set-up will be placed in the chapel of the church for all the special services so that all attending the services may see as well as hear the programs.

To all persons attending the anniversary services during the month of May, a 20-page anniversary booklet will be distributed. A large number of old photographs, some 50 or 60 years old, will be displayed in the chapel of the church.

These pictures show various views of the interior and exterior of the church and various groups and organizations. Of particular interet are photographs of most of the confirmation classes for the past 50 years.

2 Boys Are Baptized

St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, Boyertown, was the scene of two baptismal ceremonies with the Rev. Fred S. Blank officiating.

William Brent Erb, son of William Howard and Mary Louise (Yerger) Erb, was baptized with the parents as sponsors.

Darryl Brian Samsel, son of Terrance D. and Joanne H. (Long) Samsel, was baptized with the parents as sponsors.

Deaths–Funerals

Funeral services for CHARLES N. SHEETZ, husband of Elizabeth (Adams) Sheetz, NEAR HUFF'S CHURCH, AL. BURTIS RD 1, were Tuesday at 2 p. m., from the Long Funeral home, Oley.

The Rev. Charles T. Herman pastor of New Jerusalem Lutheran church, officiated.

Interment was in New Jerusalem cemetery.

Bearers were: William Sheetz, Albert Sheetz, John Sheetz, Elton Bieber and James Erb.

Theme for Month Will Concern Indians

A skit entitled "Around the World in 20 Minutes" was presented at the New Berlinville Cub Scout pack meeting in Zion's Evangelical United Brethren church, New Berlinville.

The skit, given by den one of pack 133, was directed by Mrs. Joan Herbst and Mrs. Mae Gabel, den mothers. The Cubs who participated were Gregory Herbst, Ronald Gabel, Randy Sell, John Thiel, John Minninger, Jeffrey Schmoyer, David Moyer and Bruce Gamler.

The meeting was opened with invocation by Lawrence Rhoads of den two, after which Rodman Leister, advancement chairman, presented awards to Glenn Haas, bear book; John Thiel, wolf badge and gold arrow; John Heydt, bear badge.

Nicky Perich was awarded a bobcat pin during a candlelight ceremony.

Cubmaster Harold Haas announced den activities during the month of May would follow an Indian theme.

Mrs. Wilmer John, den mother of den three, took charge of game participation after which door prizes were awarded to Ronald Gabel, Gordon Schmoyer, Glenn Haas and Mrs. Lyman Rhoads.

The program was concluded with refreshments served by den one.

Trinity Will Conduct Counselor Training

A counselor training class will be conducted for six weeks in Trinity Evangelical Congregational church, Boyertown, beginning Friday, May 12, at 7:30 p. m. The course will be given in preparation for the forthcoming Billy Graham evangelistic crusade in Philadelphia beginning on Aug. 20.

The training classes are open to anyone interested even though those who are training never attend a single meeting in Philadelphia.

The crusade is aimed at reaching a radius of 100 miles of the city of Philadelphia, where Convention Hall and the Municipal Stadium have been secured for the meetings. Pre-crusade counselor training programs and networks of prayer have been set up. The many training classes which have been organized, have a total of 6000 pre-registrations.

Women's Club Sets Mother-Daughter Fete

A mother-daughter banquet will be given by the Junior Women's club of Boyertown Monday evening at Lake Vue inn at 7 o'clock.

Guest speaker will be Dr. Dorothea Kleppinger whose topic will be "Marriage." Dr. Kleppinger is associated with the Planned Parenthood center and president of her PTA.

Candlelight installation of officers will also be a part of the program.

The executive board of the Junior Women's club will meet tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, in the Boyertown Community center, 314 West Philadelphia avenue.

DeTurk, 85 Orchard Lane; Keystone fire company, North Reading avenue; Trinity Evangelical Congregational church, 322 West Philadelphia avenue; Ernest Hoch, 21 South Jefferson street, and Cleveland Jones, 500 Rhoads avenue.

Kennedys Invite Senators for Coffee

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Kennedy invited 34 senators and their wives to have coffee at the White House Tuesday evening.

It was one of a series of coffee hours for members of Congress.

Mrs. Kennedy returned from Glen Ora, the President's rented estate near Middleburg, Va., to receive the guests with her husband.

She will go to National Airport with him Wednesday to greet President and Mrs. Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia, who are arriving for a state visit.

Inside You And Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M.D.

Dear Doctor - - -

DEAR DOCTOR: What would our Lord think of today's medical profession that capitalizes on misery and studies pagan, un-christian methods in medical schools?

Mr. A. N.

Dear Mr. N.: Some doctors are after your money, but many more want only to relieve human suffering.

Dr. Fern

Young medics have a hard time forgiving their debtors when creditors won't forgive their debts but demand prompt payments.

Even the Bible suggests that the sick deserve medical help. (Matthew 7.12).

Coffee-grounds Harmful?

Dear Doctor: Is it harmful to swallow the grounds at the bottom of a cup of instant coffee?

Miss A. B.

Dear Miss B.: Your instant coffee will all dissolve if you simmer it for a few minutes.

The grounds are no grounds for worry. If coffee grounds were harmful, expresso epidemics would have shattered the beat generation long ago!

Cured Of TB

Dear Doctor: Tuberculosis can be cured. My daughter caught tuberculosis just before her wedding—and her beau ran out when he heard the news.

Now, two years later, she's cured and engaged to another young man.

Mrs. F. M.

Dear Mrs. M.: That old white plague really made your daughter's first beau show his true colors! How lucky that those TB germs struck before she had to depend on his promise " . . . in sickness and in health."

Now she's over both a bad bug and a bad beau!

Too Much Beer?

Dear Doctor: Can a person become an alcoholic by drinking 1½ to 2 quarts of beer daily?

Mrs. B. G.

Dear Mrs. G.: What you drink and how much doesn't make you an alcoholic. The alcoholic depends on alcohol the way an addict depends on dope — to escape from an unbearable everyday world.

Anyone who needs two quarts of beer daily to float into this paradise is already an alcoholic.

Strenuous Sports

Dear Doctor: Our doctor says that our son can go out for track and basketball even though he suffered two severe attacks of acute (glomerulo) nephritis.

Won't strenuous sports hurt him?

Mrs. R. S.

Dear Mrs. S.: Not if he's completely recovered from both bouts and is taking penicillin to prevent a third attack.

Why not take the word of your own doctor? You trusted him with your son's life twice already!

Dr. Fern's mailbox is wide open for letters from readers. While he cannot undertake to answer individual letters, he will use readers' questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Fern in care of The Mercury.

Seven Harleysville Couples Attend Souderton High Class Reunion

HARLEYSVILLE — Mrs. Willis Overholtzer, corr. Phone Clifford 6-8718. Linwood Renninger, del. Phone FO 7-2744.

The following couples attended a class reunion on Saturday evening as members of the graduation class of Souderton High school, class of 1946: Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Kulp, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Hagin, Mr. and Mrs. Milton L. Alderfer, Mr. and Mrs. Archer Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Landis, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Alderfer and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Moyer.

Alice and Eva Ziegler, entertained at dinner Mr. and Mrs. Raymond K. Ziegler, and children, Cheryl, Donald and Dale, Vernfield.

A daughter, Teresa Christine, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Terry Alderfer, Maple avenue. Mrs. Alderfer is the former Miriam Yoder.

A surprise birthday party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Clemens. The honored guest was Clemens. Attending were: Mr. and Mrs. John Landis, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bair, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hacker, Mr. and Mrs. Millard Moyer, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Eshbach, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ritter.

A SON, Robert, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rye, Waynesville, Ohio. Mrs. Rye is the former Dorothy Shisler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shisler. Mrs. Shisler is spending several weeks with her daughter.

Recent evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bergey and children, were: Mr. and Mrs. Arlan Godshall, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Landis, Mr. and Mrs. Abram Landis, Mr. and Mrs. John Nice, Mr. and Mrs. Garret Nice and Mr and Mrs. Stanley Alderfer. The men are all employes at Gra-Brams. Mrs. Bergey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wurster, were also present.

Debbie Henning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henning, was an afternoon guest of Sandra Hendricks, Tylersport. Miss Hendricks celebrated her seventh birthday with a party at her home.

"Sports nite" will be observed at the Harleysville school with headliners for the event being Dudley Henriques, black belt Karate expert, along with Olympians Al Cantello and Josh Culbreath.

Edgar Williams will be master of ceremonies. Door prizes for children will be official Phillies autographed baseballs.

Mrs. Raymond Freed and Ella Ritter spent an evening with Mrs. Rosa Walt and daughter Lydia.

Pastor Discovers Papers Dating to Early Methodism

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A pastor has discovered several documents in the basement of his church apparently dating back to the founding of Methodism.

The documents include a letter signed John Wesley. Wesley founded Methodism in England in the late 18th century.

Other papers include the minutes of the 1800 Philadelphia conference of the Methodist church, several diaries, and a copy of a Methodist hymnal written by Wesley.

The Rev. Dr. Frederick E. Maser announced that he had found the documents in an old five-foot high safe in Historic Old St. George's Methodist church.

He said the Methodist Historical society had given him permission to see what was in the safe. A safe service man opened it last Monday.

The conference minutes were signed by Bishop Francis Asbury, the first Methodist bishop in the United States, and Bishop William McKendree, the first American-born Methodist elected to the episcopacy.

The minutes will be displayed at the church during the 175th session of the Philadelphia Methodist conference beginning May 17. The Wesley documents will be shown at the church on May 28.

Easing of Laos Crisis, Brightening Of Business Outlook Boost Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market made a fairly sharp recovery Tuesday as tension over Laos seemed to be easing and as the outlook for business grew brighter. Trading was active.

An estimated $2.14 billion was added to the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, based on the rise in the Associated Press average.

Volume rose to 4.11 million shares from 3.71 million Monday and Firday, which was the lightest since the Lincoln's birthday observance on Feb. 13.

Steel production was picking up speed in its week-to-week climb. Some coroporate earnings, while lower, were not as bad as expected. Auto assemblies last month were reported to have reached the highest monthly total of 1961.

Steels, rubbers, chemical, utilities, rails, drugs and the bowling issues advanced. Aircraft-missiles turned mixed after their recent rise as international tensions increased. Motors and nonferrous metals also were irregular.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 5.29 to 682.34.

The AP 60-stock average advanced 1.50 to 244.10 with industrials up 1.90, rails up 1.40 and utilities up .80.

Of 1303 issues traded, 651 advanced and 409 declined. New highs for the year totaled 76 and new lows 22.

Eleven of the 15 most active stocks advanced, two declined and two were unchanged.

Schenley Industries was the most active stock, up 1⅝ at 30⅛ on 63,100 shares. Second was Fairbanks Witney, off 1⅛ at 11¾ on 52,000 shares. Third was Brunswick, up 2¼ at 60 on 45,500 shares.

U.S. Steel (ex dividend) advanced 2¼, Lukens 2⅜, Jones and Lauglin 1¾, Ford 1⅝, Woolworth 1⅜ and Baltimore and Ohio 2½.

Wild Trading Subsides, Interest In Speculative Stocks Waning

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Wall Street seems happy with a calmer stock market.

The wild trading of recent weeks has subsided and some of the interest in highly speculative stocks has waned.

The brokerage firm, Shields & Co., says that during the market's recent rocket flight from reality investors appeared to be blind to bad news.

Poor fourth-quarter corporate earnings reports were ignored, warnings of possibly poorer first-half reports went largely unheeded, technical factors ruled the day and international troubles no longer seemed to cause much concern, it adds.

"At some point the market had to become vulnerable," Shields says, "that point, we believe, was reached within the past few weeks. Although the economy did continue along a course of recovery, bad news from Cuba and Algeria, coupled with growing doubt about Laos, began to chip away at excess confidence.

"Significantly, the market has begun to pay more attention to current earnings reports and management comment on near-term prospects. The market lately seems to be shifting to a more practical basis."

R. E. Buchsbaum of W. E. Hutton & Co. feels that everyone should welcome a less frenzied atmosphere, a period of consolidation and corrections in some of the more extravagantly overpriced stocks.

Kenneth Ward of Hayden, Stone & Co. comments that the current market action should be classified as a period of transition.

Not only does it represent a seasonal shift from spring to summer, he says, but it is a time of psychological and technical change when the market should begin to pay more attention to the fundamental factors influencing stock price movements, and where an even more careful and discriminating approach will be most necessary.

Make no mistake about it, says Gerard Gersen of Wall Street International, the long-range trend of the stock market is still up.

The tipoff, he thinks, was the manner in which prices snapped back when it became apparent that France wasn't going to have a long and costly revolution.

"Large institutional investors had simply been waiting for a dip in order to scoop up stocks they wanted at advantageous prices," he says.

"There is plenty of money on tap, ready to come into the market whenever investment opportunities appear. This great pool of demand is what is causing the market boom. It is simply larger than the supply of attractive stocks."

Seasonal Drop In Unemployment Fails to Dent Hard-Core Areas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reported Tuesday that unemployment dropped by 553,000 in April without denting the hard-core idle total. The number of jobless normally declines at this time of year.

The job picture reflected in the Labor Department's monthly survey showed the expected favorable effects of improving weather but lacked signs of basic economic improvement.

Seymour Wolfbein, the department's manpower expert, said however that even if the nation is in the middle of a sizable economic upturn it would take some time to begin eating into the unemployment backlog.

The April report showed that unemployment fell from 5,495,000 in March to 4,962,000, a drop of 533,000. This is slightly more than seasonally expected but 1.3 million higher than in April last year.

Employment increased from 65,516,000 in March to 65,734,000, up 218,000. This is 425,000 fewer than the total holding jobs a year earlier.

The drop in unemployment exceeded the employment increase because the work force dwindled by 315,000 in April.

Wolfbein said that extremely rainy weather in many areas helped explain the reduced work force and the low April employment increases. An expected increase of about 500,000 in the farm work force failed to materialize.

The long-term unemployed — those workers idled for 15 weeks or longer—increased by 266,000 to 2,128,000—highest such total since shortly after the depression of the 1930s. Those idled more than half a year increased by 124,000 to 923,000.

Wolfbein said the new figures show that while employment is increasing and unemployment decreasing the changes so far this spring do not reflect anything stronger than normal seasonal influences.

He said that if only seasonal trends continue, without basic economic improvement, the unemployed total will decline from its present level of nearly five million to 4.7 million in May, and move to 5.5 million in June, 5.1 in July and 4.5 in August.

Unemployment as the government measures it nearly always jumps in June because so many students enter the labor market looking for summer jobs, many without success.

The seasonally adjusted rate of unemployment to the total work force declined from 6.9 per cent in March to 6.8 per cent in April, but Wolfbein said he regarded the change as statistically unimportant.

What is important, he said, is that the idle rate has remained at over 6.5 per cent for five straight months. The actual idle rate in April was 7 per cent — meaning that 7 out of every 100 workers couldn't find jobs.

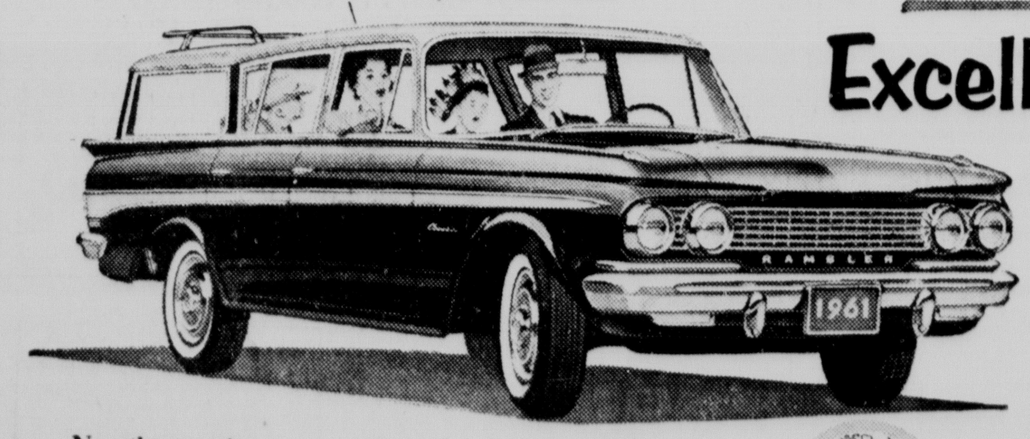
How can a lady get out of a compact . . . gracefully?

†Free Car X-Ray Books at any Rambler Dealer

DID YOU KNOW—the all-purpose Rambler Classic, America's only middle-sized car, has no climb-over ledge that makes other cars hard to enter or leave? • That the X-Ray Books prove this and more in side-by-side illustrated comparisons?

"Rambler Classic is the man-sized compact that likes ladies"

Get Rambler Excellence



No other car is built like, saves like, lasts like the Classic with Rambler Excellence

• MOST HEADROOM, 30% QUIETER with cushioned acoustical ceiling of molded fiber glass.
• EASIER PARKING, HANDLING—turns shorter than even the small compacts.
• SURPRISE PRICE—a far finer wagon, priced just slightly above small compact wagons. Based on a comparison of manufacturers' suggested prices.
